

Campaign Lagging, Eisenhower Told; More Punch Wanted

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has been told that his campaign, at this point, is not going well, and he was pictured today as prepared now to begin an intensive, toe-to-toe fight for the presidency.

His aides and visitors to his newly established New York headquarters indicated that his next move will be:

1. To obtain the active support of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, and especially of Taft's organization and the thousands of Republicans who backed the senator for the GOP nomination.

Must Pick Issues

2. To begin speaking out on specific issues, naming names and pin-pointing the major GOP charges against the Democrats, the Truman administration record and the Democratic nominee, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

On Eisenhower's schedule of appointments for today were Sen. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania, a Taft supporter, and Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire. Bridges remained neutral in the Taft-Eisenhower battle in the New Hampshire primary. Some of the newspapers in the state claimed, however, that he leaned toward Taft.

Frank Criticism Given

The general's aides said a meeting with Taft himself is in the cards for some time next month.

The date is still pending, they said. From three different sources, Eisenhower apparently heard some frank talk about his campaign progress on his first day in the new regional headquarters here.

One was Sen. Wallace Bennett of Utah, who supported Taft's drive for the GOP nomination.

Bennett said he discussed with Eisenhower the means of getting support from Taft's backers. "On the organizational level, we talked about fusing the Taft and Eisenhower groups into one effective organization," he added.

Going In High Gear

The senator added that he has found a "surprising number" of independent voters who are in doubt now about Eisenhower after having been sympathetic to his candidacy earlier.

"I find plenty of people who say they are going to take a second look at Stevenson," Bennett said.

A prominent Republican, who asked not to be identified, said his conversation with Eisenhower took much the same line. But he said:

"The general told me he has purposely kept the campaign in low gear and through today's speech before the Legion Convention."

One of Eisenhower's top lieutenants, Arthur Vandenberg Jr., told a reporter: "The campaign hasn't begun yet. He's set now to open up."

Adlai To Make Bold Bid For New York Vote

By DON WHITEHEAD

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson was all set today to make a bold bid for votes in New York and then swing into a nine-state Western tour early next month on his presidential campaign.

The Democratic presidential nominee will address the American Legion Convention at Madison Square Garden tomorrow. After that he plunges into a round of politicking that has all the earmarks of a major campaign effort.

In Detroit Monday

His Labor Day speech in Detroit will launch his formal campaign—but the New York City trip was developing as the real opening campaign barrage in fact if not in name.

Stevenson was due to see a few callers today to discuss farm and rural electrification problems. The visitors included Clyde H. Seybold, president of the National Rural Electric Co-operative Association; Roy J. Turner, chairman of the Democratic National Committee's Agricultural Division; and Herschel D. Newsum, master of the National Grange.

Hopes For Boom

But most of the day was set aside for polishing up his New York City speeches, which his lieutenants hope will touch off a Stevenson boom in the East. Later this fall, Stevenson will return to New York for a campaign tour through the State.

The Western tour began to shape up as a jam-packed 10 days of plane-hopping into the Northwest, and then circling down the Pacific Coast into the Southwest.

Unofficial reports indicated the tour would open Sept. 5 with a television speech in Denver, Colo., and conferences with Democratic political leaders from 11 Western states.

Reds Can't Yet Control Tibet

NEW YORK (AP)—A New York Times dispatch from India reported today that Red China plans to move 200,000 troops into recently conquered Tibet as a part of a long-range drive to dominate India and other neighboring states.

Official sources in the Indian capital of New Delhi described the report as "most improbable" in view of the difficulty the Chinese reportedly are having in feeding their comparatively small garrisons now in Tibet. These forces have been estimated at 10,000 men.

The Times report also said, however, that the Chinese Reds thus far have been unable to gain real control over Tibet despite a year of military occupation.

Police Crack Bold $65,000 Brink Car Theft In 24 Hours

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hunch by Police Chief Robert V. Murray cracked a $65,000 Brink's armored car theft today less than 24 hours after a 26-year-old bakery truck driver pulled it off. Arrested and charged with grand larceny and bank robbery was Ray Eugene Farmer, a short, slender youth who had been fired by Brink's three years ago after working as a guard for the armored car company.

All $65,000 was recovered. Farmer dug up the money for police. He had buried it in a wooded area near Glen Echo amusement park in nearby Maryland.

Planned Carefully

It was a carefully planned robbery, sandwiched in on Farmer's bakery route yesterday. Myrtle Jackson, receptionist at the bakery company, said:

"Ray came in from his route at the regular time yesterday. He was just as calm and nonchalant as he could be."

It was Chief Murray's recollection of a three-year-old incident that led to Farmer's arrest. Murray recalled that Farmer's Brink's uniform once popped up in the hands of a teenage gang of hoodlums, rounded up on various charges. At the time it was suspected the gang contemplated using the uniform in some sort of robbery.

Fired As Guard

Police gave this account: After Farmer's uniform was found in the possession of the gang in 1949, police took him into custody and questioned him. They found no evidence of wrongdoing and released him. Soon afterwards, Brink's fired Farmer because of the uniform episode.

He went to work for the bakery company. But he kept a duplicate key to an armored car which traveled in the same area of his bakery route.

At noon yesterday, the armored car pulled up to the fashionable Wardman Park Hotel and the four guards went inside to eat. They locked up the car.

Then Farmer drove up in his bakery truck, unlocked the armored car with his key, grabbed a sack containing $65,000 in small currency and drove off. He ignored $200,000 in bills of large denominations.

The theft was discovered when the guards, resuming their regular

Disabled Veteran Held In $6,000 Robbery Of Hemlock Village Bank

FLINT (AP)—State police today reported a confession linking ex-Marine Raymond J. Long and a second man to bank holdups in both Hemlock and Grand Blanc.

The Flint state police post said that Elverson Jack Brink, 32, of Flint, declared both he and Long, 33, also of Flint, took part in both robberies.

Caught In Saginaw

Shortly after robbing the Hemlock State bank of an estimated $6,000 yesterday Long was captured by city police in nearby Saginaw.

State police, acting on a "tip" from an undisclosed source, took Brink into custody last night at Tustin, a town near Cadillac.

Sgt. Vincent, a police commander of the Flint post, said Brink implicated Long in both holdups. Two men were known to have participated in the $4,894 robbery at the Grand Blanc bank on Aug. 8.

Accomplice Suspected

At first Long alone was believed to have been involved in yesterday's holdup at Hemlock. But when police learned of a "borrowed car," said to have been procured by a second man, they suspected an accomplice.

The federal government prepared to prosecute Long in the Hemlock holdup. Deposits of the bank are guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., a government agency.

Needed the Money

Long was captured in Saginaw yesterday just 39 minutes after the alarm was turned in at the bank in Hemlock, a village 15 miles west of here.

He said he was trying to "get some money the easy way" after being laid off from his job as a used car salesman. He told police he was a Japanese war prisoner.

Armistice Talks Reopen In Korea

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Korean armistice negotiations resume tomorrow after a fourth straight weeklong recess.

The United Nations and Communist truce delegates will meet at Panmunjom at 11 a.m. (9 p.m., Tuesday, EST).

A fifth recess seemed likely unless a new approach is submitted on the deadlocking issue of prisoner of war exchange, last hurdle before an armistice.

Since July 26, the truce teams have met only once a week. At each session, both sides repeated their stands on the prisoner dispute. Then the delegates called it quits for another week.

The enemy wants back 116,000 prisoners, including all 20,000 Chinese in Allied camps.

The U. N. Command offer only 83,000 prisoners, including 6,400 Chinese. The U. N. says the remaining thousands of captives refuse to go back to North Korea or Red China. And the U. N. says it will refuse to use force to push any prisoner back across the line.

Housewives Prepared To Revolt And Elect Ike, Says Mrs. Priest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Ivy Priest, assistant to the chairman of the Republican National Committee, said today the American housewives "are prepared to revolt" and elect Dwight D. Eisenhower President.

"The Bureau of Labor Statistics keeps putting out the bad news of the results of Democratic policy," she said in a statement issued by the committee. "A week ago it reported that the average city family spent $400 more than it earned in 1950. What the bureau did not note was that since then the cost of living index has jumped 19 percentage points, and the purchasing power of the dollar has slipped from 58.2 cents to 52.4 cents."

Rocket Hits B-17 By Error; 2 Saved

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—Two survivors from the B-17 bomber that was shot down by a new type jet fighter were picked up in the Gulf of Mexico today by a Navy minesweeper. Both were in good physical condition.

The Air Force identified the two as S-Sgt. Charles D. Jones, 31, of Meridian, Miss., and Airman Second Class Peter R. Rosing, 22, of Ingelside, Ill. They had kept afloat with a life raft.

May Be Others

The Air Force said there might be other survivors among the eight crewmen of the B-17.

Air and surface craft from military bases along the gulf coast were sent out at daybreak to the search area.

The B-17 was sent spinning in to the gulf in flames yesterday by a rocket fired by mistake by an intricate automatically controlled jet fighter.

One crewman who parachuted into the water with his life jacket was caught in 15-foot waves churned up by a sudden rainstorm, and may have been washed under.

Rescue Efforts Fail

An all-night search of the debris-littered waters by ships and planes failed to bring any rescues. The crash scene was about 50 miles south of Panama City.

The rocket was fired by the pilot of an F86d, the Air Force's newest

Fighting Rages 8 Hours; Third Of Reds Killed

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—United Nations infantrymen threw back three furious Chinese Communist assaults on Bunker Hill on the Korean Western Front last night and early today.

A U. S. Eighth Army officer estimated a third of the 800-man Red force was killed or wounded.

The fighting raged nearly eight hours. At some points troops closed to hand-to-hand combat on the muddy slopes soaked by six inches of rain in the past 48 hours. U. N. tanks and artillery kept up a steady barrage throughout the night in reply to Red artillery.

Prisoners Make Trouble

U. S. B29 and B26 bombers again raided supply and communication centers near the hard-hit North Korean capital Pyongyang.

The U. S. Eighth Army disclosed that U. N. guards wounded 38 prisoners of war Aug. 11 in putting down a demonstration among "known Communist troublemakers" in a POW pen on Kojima Island off South Korea.

In Tokyo, Gen. Mark W. Clark announced he had reorganized his Far East Command headquarters to give the Navy and Air Force an almost equal voice with the Army in overall planning and policy, including direction of the Korean War and armistice talks.

Blasts Touched Off

Japan-based B29 superforts met no opposition last night in bomb runs over Chinnampo, port city for Pyongyang. Pilots reported results were good.

Other B26 pilots attacked a supply area south of Kangdong, near Pyongyang, and reported their bombs touched off two secondary explosions and three large fires in the target zone.

The Bunker Hill fighting — four miles east of the Panmunjom armistice talks site — was the only major action along the 155-mile winding front.

U. S. Marines captured the dominant height Aug. 12 in a quick thrust. Then for four days the Red attacked furiously in vain attempts at recapturing the ridge that overlooks both U. N. and Communist front-line positions.

The federal government prepared to prosecute Long in the Hemlock holdup. Deposits of the bank are guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., a government agency.

MICHIGAN BALLOONISTS DROWN — Hundreds of horrified fairgoers watched Saturday as this balloon carried two professional parachutists to a watery grave in the Ohio River near Parkersburg, W. Va. MANILA (AP)—Ten inches of rain in 15 hours flooded 90 per cent of this capital yesterday and today. As the one to three-foot-deep waters receded, at least eight dead were counted.

Six bodies were recovered from flooded Manila streets. Two persons drowned in the provinces.

The sudden tropical storm, whipped by heavy winds, injured 14 others. Three were missing.

Swollen rivers and streams swept away rows of homes and wooden bridges. Thousands of workers in the city of one million persons were marooned for hours in waist-high, swirling waters.

Numerous cars and buses remained stalled in streets broken up by the flood.

Threatening clouds hung low over the sea-level city.

Twin-Jet Races Sun Round-Trip Across Atlantic

ALDERGROVE AIRFIELD, Northern Ireland (AP)—A British jet bomber flashed across the Atlantic Ocean and back today in slightly over 10 hours.

The double crossing in a single day was the first in history.

The sleek black Canberra also smashed all previous records for a west to east passage as it streaked home from Gander, Newfoundland, western terminus of the epic flight.

The whole trip of 4,144 miles took 10 hours 4 minutes, including a two-hour stopover at Gander.

This was the timetable of the bomber's trip, in terms of British Daylight Time which is six hours ahead of Eastern Standard:

6:34 a. m.—Left Aldergrove.
11:12 a. m.—Arrived Gander.
1:10 p. m.—Left Gander.
4:38 p. m.—Reached Aldergrove.

The plane fought 100-mile-an-hour head winds on its east to west flight, but was helped by them on the trip home.

The average speed on the home leg was just over 500 miles an hour. The 2,072 mile flight took 3 hours 26 minutes. The flight from Northern Ireland to Newfoundland required 4 hours 38 minutes. That was almost 40 miles an hour slower than the east-to-west record of 483.91 miles an hour slower than the east-to-west record of 483.91 miles an hour established last August in the same plane by the same pilot — Wing Commander Roland Beaumont of the Royal Air Force.

The Canberra, which had been groomed for the try at the record double run for several weeks, has held the east-west Atlantic record for almost a year. With Beaumont at the controls, she set a mark of four hours, 18 minutes, 24.4 seconds—an average speed of 483.91 miles per hour—last August 31.

On her home journey the plane was virtually certain to beat the existing west-to-east record time. For more than 15 years it has been the 20 hours, 29 minutes set by Americans H. T. Merrill and J. S. Lambe in a Lockheed.

Report 2 More Polio Victims

Two more polio victims, both Gladstone infants, were in St. Luke's Hospital in Marquette this morning where their cases were diagnosed as definite polio with minimal paralysis.

The young victims, the sixth and seventh county cases to be reported this summer, are:

Michael Stropich, two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stropich of 1306 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, and Michele Marie Switzer, 1, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Switzer of North 16th Street, Gladstone.

Show Leg Paralysis

Both children were taken to the clinic of St. Luke's yesterday after showing symptoms of leg involvement the preceding days.

The parents of the Stropich boy reported that they noticed a general weakening of his upper legs and hips last week. He is receiving treatment in the contagion ward.

The walking of the Switzer infant was similarly affected by leg stiffness. She was removed to an open ward this morning with only slight leg paralysis.

The children are the latest in a series of seven Delta county victims to receive treatment in St. Luke's since Aug. 9.

One death occurred among the seven victims, that of Roger Belanger of Gladstone, on Aug. 19.

34 U. P. Cases

The other victims, now either under treatment at the Marquette hospital or at home, are Toni Bal, Gladstone; Jerry Beck, Kipling; Debra Peterson, Escanaba; and Marvin Schaffer of Brampton.

A total of 34 cases in the Upper Peninsula have been admitted to the polio clinic in Marquette thus far. Two of these resulted in death, one a Delta county boy and the other a Menominee county child. Both of the deaths have been cases of bulbar paralysis.

The cases by U. P. counties: Chippewa, 10; Delta, 7; Menominee, 6; Marquette, 3; Schoolcraft, 2; Houghton, 2; Dickinson, 1; and Ontonagon, 1. All but one are summer cases.

In 1951 only three polio cases were reported during the summer and fall. These were reported in August, September and October.

Wallace J. Beck Enters Institute For Foreign Trade

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(Special)—Wallace J. Beck of Sheridan Road, Escanaba, Michigan, has been accepted for admission to the fall class of the American Institute for Foreign Trade, Thunderbird Field, Phoenix. The one-year intensive training course begins September 15.

Beck is a graduate of Escanaba High School. He also attended Woodbury College at Los Angeles, California, where he received his Bachelor of Business Administration in Foreign Trade; he is at present working for his Bachelor of Arts degree at Mexico City College in Mexico, D. F. He is a member of the Foreign Trade Association of Los Angeles.

During the war, Beck served with the Army on the Los Alamos Atomic Bomb project.

The American Institute for Foreign Trade will prepare Beck for a career in international commerce. The hard-hitting, intensive course comprises area studies, languages, and courses in business administration at an executive level.

Although the school has been in existence only six years, 333 of its graduates are in key positions in 52 as different countries, or in traveling assignments. Eighty percent of its graduates overseas are representing American business firms and the remainder are in military service abroad, or with government agencies.

Bids Are Sought For Printing Of Election Ballots

The Delta county clerk began today to advertise for bids on the printing of four ballots to be used in the November general election.

Letters to all Delta county printing firms asking them to submit bids on the four jobs were mailed today by clerk Mary Constantineau.

By Thursday four job contracts will be let to low bidders to supply the ballots which will be used in the election:

1. The presidential ballot
2. The state and county officers ballot
3. The non-partisan ballot
4. The amendment ballot.

Bids will be opened as they are received. The finished forms must be in the hands of the county clerk early enough so that they may be distributed to the city and township clerks by Sept. 20.

About 18,300 ballots of each kind will be needed by the county.

It is expected that more ballots will be cast in November than were polled in the August general primary. Approximately 16,000 ballots were ordered by the county clerk for the primary.

Election day is Nov. 4.

Escanaban Edits Soldier Paper At Fort Custer

Pfc. Harold R. Olson, of Escanaba, recently became editor of The Cannoneer, post newspaper at Fort Custer, Mich.

For Private Olson, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Olson live at 2530 Lake Shore Drive, it was the fifth time he had been named editor of an Army publication.

Shortly after induction into the Army in October, 1950, Olson obtained permission to start Charlie Chatters, a paper he edited while attending leadership school at Fort Knox, Ky.

Served In Japan

After graduation at the school, the Escanaba soldier organized the CC Bee, regimental paper of Combat Command B, 3rd Armored Division.

Later aboard the USS Gordon, enroute to the Far Eastern Command, Olson was editor of The Gordon Flash.

Stationed in Japan, he started the Kobe Quartermaster Depot Tips.

Olson returned to the United States last June. He will remain as editor of the Fort Custer newspaper until his release from active duty in October.

Graduate of MSC

Before entering the Army, Private Olson attended Michigan State College. He graduated in 1950 with a BA degree in advertising and journalism.

While attending school he worked in the summer on the Delta Reporter in Gladstone. He was a staff member of the Michigan State News and the college radio station WKAR during school.

After his release from service Olson plans to return to the New York office of McCann-Erickson, Inc., advertising agency, where he was employed after graduation from Michigan State.

Former Part Owner Of Jefferson Beach Dies In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Henry Wagner, former co-owner of Eastwood Park and part owner of Jefferson Beach, died yesterday at his home here. He was 68.

A one-time chief turnkey at the Wayne County jail, Wagner was elected to fill out a term of a sheriff who died in office.

But circuit Court held that the undersheriff should fill out the term and Wagner never served as sheriff. Subsequently he served as undersheriff.

Wagner disposed of his Eastwood interest in 1948 in a controversy with East Detroit Mayor Mildred Stark and Circuit Judge Herman Dehnke's one-man grand jury.

Soil Conservation Field Day Scheduled Thursday

Delta county farmers Thursday will attend a demonstration in soil conservation to be held from 10:30 a. m. to 3 p. m., at the Leo Lancour farm, Flat Rock, it was announced today by Ed Bergman, Bark River, chairman of the Delta District soil conservation committee.

All interested farmers are invited to attend the program showing actual soil conservation practices. Lunch will be served on the grounds.

Munising Sisters Die In Train-Car Crash In Indiana

MUNISING — Funeral services were scheduled here today for two teen-age sisters who were killed Friday night in a train-car crash near Gary, Ind.

They are Miss Viola Marie Mercier, 15, and Mrs. Ethel Mae Fuller, 16, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mercier, who moved from Munising to Gary.

Also killed in the crash was Cpl. Robert J. Kenealy, 21, driver of the car, who was a friend of Mrs. Fuller's husband, Sgt. John H. Fuller Jr., who is stationed in Germany.

Sgt. Fuller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller, Cox Addition, Munising.

After the parents of the two young women moved to Gary, they remained to live with their sister, Mrs. Steve Paluch, before joining their parents in Gary.

Sgt. and Mrs. Fuller were married last Christmas and she was to leave Saturday for Germany to be with him.

The accident occurred at a "death" crossing near Crown Point, Ind., where a family of three was wiped out a year ago.

The sisters were born in Munising and attended Mather High School.

Blood Donor Drive Workers To Meet Wednesday Night

Plans for the blood donor campaign and the assignment of work will be made at the meeting. All workers on committees and interested persons are invited to attend.

Musical Italy Awaits National Anthem

ROME (AP)—Musical Italy has had no national anthem since World War II.

An author of famed Neapolitan songs, E. A. Mario, tried to end this shortcoming. He wrote a new song which now awaits approval by Italy's professor President Luigi Einaudi.

Military defeat in World War II ended the "Royal March" and "Giovinezza" as two national anthems. Since then the country has stood to attention to an old-time revolutionary song called the "Hymn of Mameli." Because of its revolutionary background, the hymn was never recognized as an official anthem.

Application Period Now Open For Filing Absentee Ballots

Registered voters who expect to be out of the county on Nov. 4 the date of the general election can now make voting application with the county clerk.

Deadline for filing the absentee ballot is the Saturday prior to election day, or Nov. 1, according to clerk Mary Constantineau.

Families of servicemen who intend to vote in Delta county can apply for the absentee ballot in place of the man. The ballots will then be sent by the clerk to the serviceman.

Growth Seen In Reading

L. Morris McClure, reading specialist of the Department of Public Instruction, told Escanaba and Gladstone teachers at the pre-school teachers conference here this morning that elementary schools are doing the best job of teaching youngsters to read in the history of the schools and that fifth grade youngsters today are reading as well as their parents did 25 years ago in the seventh grade.

"Learning to read is like learning to walk or talk," Mr. McClure said. "It varies with the individual child. A child's vocabulary depends to a considerable extent upon the vocabulary of elders in the home."

"The rate of progress in reading is born within a child and is affected by environment."

He cautioned teachers that the growth in reading ability of a child cannot be separated from the child's emotional growth.

Chairman of the discussion groups were Louis Diedrich, Charles Koskela, Allen Mathison, Marvin Paffenroth and Bernard Treado. Recordors were Myrtle Beatson, Helen Holmberg, Joyce Kopitzke, Bernadette Brennan and Caryl Hulsizer.

Helen Elaine Stenson presided at the morning session and E. E. Edick presided at the afternoon session.

Miss Louise Gersbacher, reading consultant for Scott Foresman and Company, Chicago, discussed reading problems in the afternoon session today. Charles Folio, president of the Escanaba Board of Education, talked on the history of Escanaba and described life in Escanaba, Gladstone and Delta County.

Wednesday morning there will be reports from recorders at Tuesday's sessions and at 10 o'clock elementary teachers will discuss reading problems with Miss Stenson. Junior high teachers will meet with Prin. Clarence Zerbel and senior high teachers with Prin. E. E. Edick.

In the afternoon arithmetic problems will be discussed by the elementary teachers and the junior and senior high teachers will discuss report cards.

Absentee Ballots Ready For Those In Armed Forces

Application forms for absentee ballots to be mailed to men and women in the armed forces of the United States are now available at the offices of city and township clerks.

Escanaba City Clerk George Harvey said that relatives of persons in service must make application for the absentee ballots, which will be mailed by the clerk. The ballots are for the Nov. 4 general election.

Relatives who may make application are the father, mother, brother, sister, child or spouse of the service man or woman who is to receive the ballot.

It is not required that the person in service be registered to vote, although it is required they be 21 years of age and otherwise qualified to register as voters.

Relatives who make application for ballots for their kin in service are reminded by the city clerk that they must supply the clerk with the correct mailing address of the person who will receive a ballot.

Pennsylvania Barber Still Clipping At 85

SPRING CITY, Pa. (AP)—Joseph Thomas was surprised recently when he read about a man who said he was the country's oldest active barber who is more than 83 and has been in business about 60 years.

Thomas was surprised because he has been clipping heads here for 68 years and is 85. He started as a barber in 1884 and four years later went in business for himself. In 1900 he had to vacate his rented shop so he built his own—and he works there still. His original barber chair for children is also still in service.

Locked In Strike-Bound Plant, Bob Lied Escapes For Escanaba Vacation

Bob Lied, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Voght, of Escanaba, who is employed as a chemical engineer in the Goodrich Tire and Rubber Company plant in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, was one of 41 persons who were locked in the rubber plant last week by strikers. Lied escaped by crawling along a deep ditch and under a fence after 10 hours imprisonment in the plant but the others were not released until hours later.

Lied and his wife are visiting in Escanaba and will return to Alabama next weekend.

Lied stopped at the plant Friday morning to pick up his vacation check preparatory to leaving by plane for Escanaba. When he tried to leave the plant, however, he was driven back by strikers. A total of 25 men and 16 women were locked in the plant.

Seeking to catch an 8:15 p. m. plane out of Tuscaloosa, Lied crawled along a five foot ditch in water up to his knees and

Detroit Coal Dealer Sets Speed Record For Light Seaplanes

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit coal dealer with a yen for speed and distance, Harold Mistel, laid claim today to two new world speed records for light seaplanes.

Mistele averaged 102.27 miles an hour over a 500 kilometer (310 miles) course and 109.07 for 100 kilometers over the same course above Lake St. Clair yesterday.

He was timed by Col. Richard Lovell, representing the National Aviation Association, who said he would certify the speeds to the Aviation Federation Internationale in Paris for recognition as world marks.

Right-Wing Slate Off Ford Union Ballot; Sell-Out Is Alleged

DETROIT (AP)—Charging a "sell-out" by the International Union of the CIO United Automobile Workers, a "right-wing" slate of candidates has withdrawn from a scheduled election within the UAW's Ford Local 600.

The International union said through a spokesman who asked not to be identified that the charge was "unfounded."

The International union recently took over administration of the 65,000-member 600 after witnesses testified before the House Un-American Activities Committee that the local was Communist-dominated. However top union officials retained their positions.

The International merely supplanted local officers, allowing them to continue to draw union salaries. It did, however, fire some of the local's unit officials.

Edgar Lee, who withdrew as a right-wing candidate for president, charged that "what started out as a housecleaning ended as a whitewash."

Withdrawal of Lee and his slate left Carl Stellato, deposed president, certain of re-election. Originally Stellato was elected as a right-winger but later broke with his mentor, Walter Reuther, president of the International.

Lee charged there had been a "deal" worked out between Stellato and Reuther "in order to continue to play politics."

Tourist Trade To Mexico On Decline

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The tourist business, which puts the butter on Mexico's daily bread, shows signs of withering under European competition and high prices here.

Even with the big Rotary and Lions international conventions, tourist entries are only a few hundred above last year's average. There was also a momentary slump in the tourist business immediately after the disturbances following the recent presidential elections.

Any falling off in the tourist business would be a serious threat to Mexico's economy and would force Mexico to cut down on her purchases abroad.

McCormick's Third Party Would Only Assure Democratic Victory

THE proposal of Colonel McCormick of the Chicago Tribune that a new political party be organized is not a practical solution to the problem of those people who, like Col. McCormick, are opposed to the presidential nominees of the Republican and Democratic parties.

Certainly it is no solution for those who are opposed to the paternalism of the Democratic administrations of the past 20 years. A third party movement would serve only to assure a continuance of Democratic rule. It would deliver the election victory to the Democratic nominee, Adlai Stevenson, on a platter.

Franco May Get A Sad Surprise

SPAIN reportedly has set a sky-high price for taking a position in the European defense line-up against Russia, which is a little inconsistent with her past performance.

The Franco government rose to power from the Spanish civil war, in which the Communists actively backed the side Franco was fighting, and finally defeated. Spain played it cozy with Italy and Germany in World War II, and even had troops fighting alongside the Germans on the Russian front.

The line of division between Communist Russia and the rest of the world is much more sharply marked than it was then, so why has Spain suddenly decided to take the role of a retiring Ferdinand who would rather nibble daisies than fight it out in the ring?

After four months of negotiating between this country and Spain, little progress has been made, according to unofficial sources. We want military bases there, but not enough to meet the price Franco is asking.

Congress already has earmarked $125,000,000 in military aid to Spain, which may have given Franco the not unique idea that there's more where that came from if he can just hold out a little longer.

And, difficult as the financial position of impoverished Spain may be, it's just possible she can hold out. The situation of her farm crops is improved, for one thing.

And it has been suggested that Franco may believe if he can just get over the present hump in the negotiations, his chances for really tapping the till will be improved.

He may think that this country needs the bases in Spain so badly that eventually we will have to meet his price. But both the Pentagon and the State Department have indicated that if that's the way he feels, he's in for a surprise.

With our whole system of defenses building up in Africa and under NATO in Europe, the importance of bases in Spain somewhat diminishes. They're still important, of course, but not so much so that we're going to let ourselves get sandbagged. Not, at least, by Franco.

Meantime, it will be interesting, when the wraps have been taken off the current negotiations, to see just how big a chunk of the moon he was really asking for.

The Doctor Says ... Sex Of Unborn Infant Is Determined By The Male

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Through the ages countless men have blamed their wives if the latter produced girl babies instead of boys. Vast numbers of superstitions also have grown up about how the sex of a child is determined.

Q—Who determines the sex of a child, the male or the female?

A—The sex of an unborn child is determined at the moment that the father's sperm enters the mother's egg. The sex of the child lies in the arrangement of certain chromosomes present both in the egg and in the sperm—the egg has only one kind of sex chromosome, but the sperm may contain one of two kinds.

The sex of the unborn child depends on whether the sperm entering the egg contains the kind of chromosome which leads to maleness or the kind leading to femaleness. The sex of a child is determined by the male.

Q—What is meant by high sedimentation? Is there any treatment for this?

A—This refers to a test of the blood which is commonly performed, particularly in the presence of infections. In most infections the red blood cells settle through the serum more rapidly than usual and this is described as a high or rapid sedimentation test.

No third party movement in America has ever been successful. This one, if it ever developed, would be doomed to failure at the outset.

Republican supporters of Sen. Taft were naturally disappointed that their candidate did not win the Republican nomination. Sen. Taft, too, was disappointed but the senator promptly announced his own support of Gen. Eisenhower.

Practical politics requires realism. There is no realism in Col. McCormick's proposal because it could make no constructive gains. Its main result would be to draw substantial Republican strength away from the Republican ticket in the November election and thereby make it impossible to achieve a Republican victory. The Democratic ticket would be the gainer, not the new political party.

Yep--It's The Silly Season

FOR a minute there it looked like the Austrians had us.

A piece from Vienna said the telephone company there tells people not only what time it is and whether it is raining or not, but also provides detailed menus for the day's meals, telephone bedtime stories for the kiddies at night, and will sound a reliable "A" so you could tune your violin.

Then, just as things were looking darkest for us, along came one of those New York fashion outfits and saved the day. They've got women's gloves that come clear up to your elbow and on the back of the hand of each one is a gadget that holds three cigarettes.

It's very handy for cocktail parties, the fashion people said. When you've smoked up the six cigarettes it's high time to leave. Of course, if you think you've really got to have another cigarette just call up Vienna and have them telephone you some smoke from your favorite brand.

RIGHTS OF THE PRESS

(Marquette Eagle Star)

Newspapers of Wisconsin should band together to challenge the ruling of Attorney General Thomson in holding that a sheriff or police department is within its rights in withholding inspection by the press or radio of criminal complaints and investigation reports, including automobile accident records.

If the Attorney General's ruling is to be law in Wisconsin, then they should seek amendments through the legislature, especially as to the extent to which a sheriff may go in withholding information.

The Attorney General concedes "the right of the public to be informed through the press of all matters concerning the administration of government and the execution of the law." But he also says "there is the right of the public to be protected against crime and to have the criminal law vigorously enforced. Long experience has shown that criminal investigation must be conducted in secrecy and both the legislature and the courts have given effect to this principle."

It will be granted that prematurely publicized information about certain crimes can defeat the effort of the sheriff to apprehend criminals, or make it much more difficult. But the Attorney General seems to reveal a bias when he adds that "persons accused of crime are entitled to a fair trial by an unbiased jury, and a too complete coverage by the press may tend to defeat this right."

Attorney General Thomson is legalistic rather than realistic. It is far better for the press to tell the whole story and let the prospective jurors judge for themselves, than to tell only a part of the story and leave the jurors beset with rumors that have been neither confirmed nor denied. Thomson seems to think in terms of the attorney who finds it difficult to defend a criminal because all the facts have been revealed.

Merry-Go-Round

(While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being A. V. Astin, director, National Bureau of Standards.)

DR. A. V. ASTIN

WASHINGTON—The sweeping scientific and technological development of the past few decades have naturally aroused considerable speculation on future trends. In terms of major developments, affecting our way of life, several fields appear very promising. The clues to these lie in the past. Thus, although the applied aspects of atomic energy have received considerable attention, the public is largely unaware of the influence of this program on science itself.

One of these influences is the availability of new tools for research and therapy in the form of radioactive materials. For example, radioactive sugars have been synthesized recently which have contributed to advances in the development of artificial blood plasma and the understanding of basic processes in blood circulation. Radioactive cobalt has been made available, permitting an expansion in radiological therapy which has been restricted in the past by the limited availability of radium.

Electronics is another field which will show marked progress, cheaper and better electronic devices, civilian and military, are on their way. The discovery of the principle of the transistor represents a major achievement, and we should see the successful development of methods of large-scale production of these devices. When that happens, the transistor will usurp the place of electron tubes in many applications. Because its power requirements are unusually small, the transistor will also be extremely valuable in applications where size is important—from hearing aids to electronic gear for aircraft. Faster and more versatile electronic computers will be developed. By-products of these electronic "brains," however, are destined to have an even greater impact upon our lives. These will be computerlike machines capable of processing all sorts of information. In particular, they will take over much routine bookkeeping and inventory operations, realizing considerable economies in government and business.

COMMON FEATURES

Most of these developments—as well as many others—have the following feature in common: they represent the application of known knowledge to specific problems. Radically new principles of science are not involved. The story of atomic energy illustrates this. The development of the atomic bomb was an application of nuclear physics. That development would have been impossible without, first, some 50 years of basic work in atomic, nuclear, and electron physics which preceded it and, second, without the unprecedented concentration of talent and facilities which compressed many years of necessary additional research and development into a few. Yet major areas of nuclear physics still remain unknown or poorly understood, calling for additional research.

Advances in basic research are apt to come slowly. Partly, that is the nature of such progress, for it involves the accumulation of a great deal of data about the properties of matter. But another reason is that we are inclined to emphasize applied research and development rather than fundamental work. It is easier to obtain support for development work, which leads to practical things, than for basic research, which sounds visionary.

The interplay between basic science and its applications is complex. Without basic research, advances in applied science are impossible. But the applications themselves often contribute to future basic research by providing the materials and tools. The applications also often require further fundamental investigations.

The field of radio communications illustrates this. With the opening up of the higher frequencies as a result of World War II work in radar, we have found ourselves with a vast new region for exploration. The utilization of this new "space" has required the study of the properties of radio waves at the higher frequencies and the development of methods and instruments of measurement. Recent new discoveries have indicated, for example, that very-high-frequency radio waves are not limited by the horizon and that they may normally be expected to be transmitted far beyond it, as a result of the properties of the waves and the atmosphere. This finding has immediate significance in the allocation of channels to television stations.

Examples of this type suggest the nature of basic research—the steady, quiet exploration of the properties of matter and their painstaking measurement, in order that we may predict its behavior and use it intelligently. They also suggest the need for more work of this basic kind. This is true not only in new fields—like the higher radio frequencies, nuclear physics, and temperatures at close to absolute zero or up in the thousands of degrees—but also in well-established fields.

Into The Past

More Sex And Less Censorship Is Hollywood's Future Program

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Hollywood is junking dignity. It didn't pay off at the boxoffice.

The blueprint for movietown's celluloid future now specifies:

Bolder plots, sexier scenes, longer kisses, tighter sweaters, an attempt at repeal of state censorship laws, leggy musicals, a revision of Hollywood's own anti-censorship code, slum-bang, old-fashioned publicity stunts and the debunking of the World War II inspired ballyhoo that movie stars are normal, folksy people. "Movies Are Sexier Than Ever" will be the cry instead of "Movies Are Better Than Ever."

BARE - CHESTED males, like Cornel Wilde, are part of new slum-bang Hollywood trend.

A fading boxoffice and the closing of hundreds of theaters—blamed on television and lack of public interest in Hollywood's 50th anniversary product—are the reasons for the big switch.

Hollywood acquired dignity during the serious days of the war when almost every movie had a message. The movies had grown up, the film barons told themselves as they put the skids on slapstick comedy, light-hearted romantic stories, circus ballyhoo and eye-catching advertising.

During those serious days the Producers' Association fought Howard Hughes' busty billboards of Jane Russell for "The Outlaw." Now Hughes' busty heroines decorate billboards from coast to coast with full industry approval and other studios have adopted the same sex appeal tactic.

Even the males are getting the strip tease treatment. Advertising, with Marlon Brando, Cornel Wilde and Alan Ladd playing peek-a-boo with their manly chests. Movie queens are showing just about everything the law will allow. At-home photographs with pumpkin pies and happy kiddies have been replaced by cheesecake dished up in bathing suits and lacy black negligees.

The plots of two movies, "Clash By Night," and "Carrie" are samples of racier, bolder things to come on celluloid.

Both films are evidence of more lenient industry censorship.

"Clash By Night" features an adultery theme, and the advertising shows Barbara Stanwyck, one shoulder strap down, covering as Paul Douglas screams at her.

"Carrie" is based on the old Theodore Dreiser novel which wasn't printed in the United States for 15 years because a publisher thought it was too hot to handle. It tells the story of a farm girl (Jennifer Jones) who goes to Chicago and becomes the mistress of two men, one of whom (Lawrence Olivier) is married.

They have an out-of-wedlock child and then Olivier lies about divorcing his wife and becomes a bigamist when he marries her.

A big drive against state censorship is part of Hollywood's long range plan to put more oomph into its celluloid. State legislatures will be asked to repeal local censorship laws based on the theory that the recent high court decision on "The Miracle" cast doubt on the legality of local film prohibitions.

On and off the screen Hollywood's cuties are on a nudity binge.

Linda Christian's surprise birthday present to Tyrone Power—a nude bust—was an eyebrow lifter, but marble evidence of Hollywood's new "down with dignity" campaign. A black silk dress was glued on the shapely form of Marilyn Maxwell to better reveal her curves in a new Bob Hope movie, "Military Policemen."

There's a suggestion of nude swimming scenes for Dorothy Lamour in "The Road to Bali" and Ann Blyth in "Katie Did It." Rita Hayworth wears as little as the censors will allow in "Affair in Trinidad" and in "Salome, Dance of the Seven Veils."

Promised and current in the sex appeal department are Zsa Zsa Gabor's strip tease as a model in

"Lili," Jane Russell's leggy dance hall queen role in "Son of Paleface," Virginia Mayo's playing of a burlesque stripper in "She's Working Her Way Through College," and sultry TV actress Rita

WORDS AREN'T needed for Rita Gam's sultry role—in "The Thief"—dialogue—in "The Thief."

Gam's shady lady role without a single line of dialogue opposite Ray Milland in "The Thief."

Hollywood's biggest new box office star is Marilyn Monroe, who, when fully dressed, is the least-dressed star Hollywood has seen since Jean Harlow.

Hollywood has discovered that those little home screens pack a big competitive wallop—and if TV's Dagmars and Studio Ones can dish up sex appeal in large doses, then the big screen movies have the same legal and moral rights.

BITA'S LEGS (and a lot more of Rita, too) are on view again in the new Hollywood. The dance is from "Affair in Trinidad."

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

SCHOOL DAYS—The sound of school bells will soon echo across the land, calling boys and girls—and teachers—back to class rooms.

Despite popular notion to the contrary, the reopening of school will be welcomed by the majority concerned.

Children no longer detest school the way they did a few decades ago. This change is accountable in part to a changing school program that makes classes more interesting, and to the fact that everyone is expected to (and does) attend school to the age of 16.

In an earlier day it was not unusual for most of the children, particularly the boys, to drop out of school after the Sixth or Eighth Grade. Today boys and girls find High School the most interesting part of their school life.

CHANGE OF PACE—Summer vacation provides that necessary change of pace to relieve the inevitable tensions of school life.

Teachers look forward to vacationtime with as much anticipation as their pupils. For them it means an opportunity for recreation, for study, for travel, for further education to make them better teachers.

Young people welcome the break in their living schedule. They can forget the clock and the book.

Parents find renewed enjoyment in the additional hours with their children, and opportunity to strengthen the family circle in family vacation activities.

AND BACK AGAIN—With schools being readied for reopening there is anticipation of another change of pace—the return to the business of study and school life, its orderly routine, and association of young people in preparation for life.

Parents look forward to the reopening of school with as much pleasant anticipation as their children.

In some families it will mean a new experience as youngsters enter Kindergarten for the first time. There will be anxious moments while the "babies" adjust themselves to school and the absence of their mothers.

And in other families there will be the experience of sons and daughters entering High School—or beginning that climax of local school education, their Senior year.

THE RESPONSIBILITY—Parents have a continuing responsibility to their children when they return to school.

Just because vacation is over and the children are no longer underfoot does not mean the youngsters can be turned over to teacher and forgotten.

The cooperation of parents, the teachers, and the child is necessary if the youngster is to receive the school's full educational benefit.

Parents can help by approaching the subject of school from the affirmative viewpoint. Schools are good for you, all children attend school, and Junior will be happier and better educated if he learns to adjust himself to school life.

There is also the possibility that parents will have a lot of sociable fun as well as help their children and the schools by becoming active members of their local PTA unit.

At PTA meetings they can meet their child's teacher and the parents of other children, learn about the school program and discuss it with a view to improvement.

PART OF LIVING—Not to be overlooked by parents is the role of the schools in educating youngsters for better living.

Development of abilities, understanding of team-work, respect for rules designed to benefit and protect society, are all a part of the school program.

An awareness on the part of parents of the fundamental responsibilities of the school system, an understanding of its program and its purpose, will help the school system and the child.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

A. R., MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The expression "every so often," as in the sentence, "I hear it used every so often," meaning very often, cannot be defended grammatically. Preferably one should say "ever so often." Probably "every so often" arose from likeness to the common expression, "every now and then." However, it is now heard so frequently that it is sometimes regarded acceptable colloquial usage.

CHICAGO—"Just what is meant by a 'dangling participle'?" I hear the expression but am not sure of the meaning. Please give me an example.—M. B. C.

Answer—An excellent example was dug up recently by The New Yorker from a Texas newspaper: "This year, as before, my plant surprised me again. After spending another year in the cold ground, I am now the owner of four strong stems, eye of which has eight blooms."

The only noun with which "spending" can agree is "I," which makes the second sentence absurd. The participle "spending" is said to be dangling, because its true subject, "plant," or a pronoun referring to it, does not appear in the same phrase. The sentence should be something like this: "This year, as before, my plant surprised me again. After it spent another year in the cold ground, it presented me with four strong stems, etc."

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—"I was criticized for writing, 'Altogether, there were a hundred persons present.' Is altogether wrongly used?"—C. W. P.

Answer—The sentence is correct. Altogether, as here used, means all told, in all, on the whole.

H. W. L., KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Regrettably, depository and depository are used interchangeably. Preferably, however, depository is applied to a person with whom a thing is deposited for safe-keeping, and depository to a place where it is deposited.

A writer says the younger generation learns things quickly from the older generation—which promptly reprimands the young generation.

Escaper Gets Caught In Bars

CASSOPOLIS (AP)—Robert Miller, 22, underestimated himself last night when he tried to squeeze through the bars of the Cass County jail here. Late today he was still stuck fast inside the jail, his head and shoulders on one side of the cell grill work and the rest of him on the other.

Sheriff Edgar Probst said Miller had served 21 days of a 60 day sentence on a bad check charge. He was also held for federal authorities on a Dyer Act violation.

One bar of the cell had been removed, leaving an opening of eight or nine inches.

Sheriff Probst said Miller had torn up his mattress cover and made a rope. A four foot iron bar stolen from a dining room table also was found in his cell.

A hacksaw was used in an attempt to free Miller. But didn't work. The steel bars only dulled the saw.

So Probst resorted to an acetylene torch. By that time Miller had been pinioned for 12 hours. Probst said the break attempt was made at 11 o'clock last night and was discovered at 3 a. m. today.

Spokane-North Pole Flight To Detroit Tops Aviation Show

DETROIT (AP)—A 10-engined B-36 bomber's non-stop flight from Spokane-to-the North Pole-to-Detroit will highlight Saturday's program of the fifth annual International Aviation Exposition here.

The bomber—powered by six propeller and four jet engines—will require an estimated 31 hours and 26 minutes to cover the 6,869 miles.

Before landing at Wayne-Major airport here it will buzz by the exposition grandstands at a 100-foot level. It is scheduled to arrive at 5 p. m.

Lieut. Col. Raymond J. Sealy, 33, of Fairchild, Wash., will command the bomber, and one of his 18 crewmen will be Lt. Freddie Swihart, 30, of Three Rivers, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. George Laplante of Detroit are spending their vacation at their summer home here.

Edla and Edwin Long of Toledo, O., have arrived at the home of their sister, Mrs. Mathilda McPhail, for their annual summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Laplante, former Thompson residents, are the parents of a son born Aug. 22. This is the first grandchild of the George Laplantes.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Debore of Lansing are guests at the cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Miller at Goose Neck Lake on their annual vacation.

Betty Flodin has arrived home after two weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. Herman Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Anton Olson in Seattle, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sample and Mr. and Mrs. Ole Edwards spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. George Jarvis at Whitefish Point.

Manila Beer Lost

MANILA (AP)—Army Chief of staff Maj. Calixto Dugue wants to know what is happening to that beer donated by a Manila brewery to Filipino troops in the U. S. command in Korea. Dugue assigned an aide to go to Korea to investigate reports that the beer is not reaching its destination but is sold to American soldiers.

Shipless Crew Safe

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland (AP)—The crew of a fire-damaged schooner were reported safe on a nearby island today. The coastal freighter Blue Prince yesterday found the smoldering wreckage of the schooner—later identified as the James Jones. Later she broke up and sank.

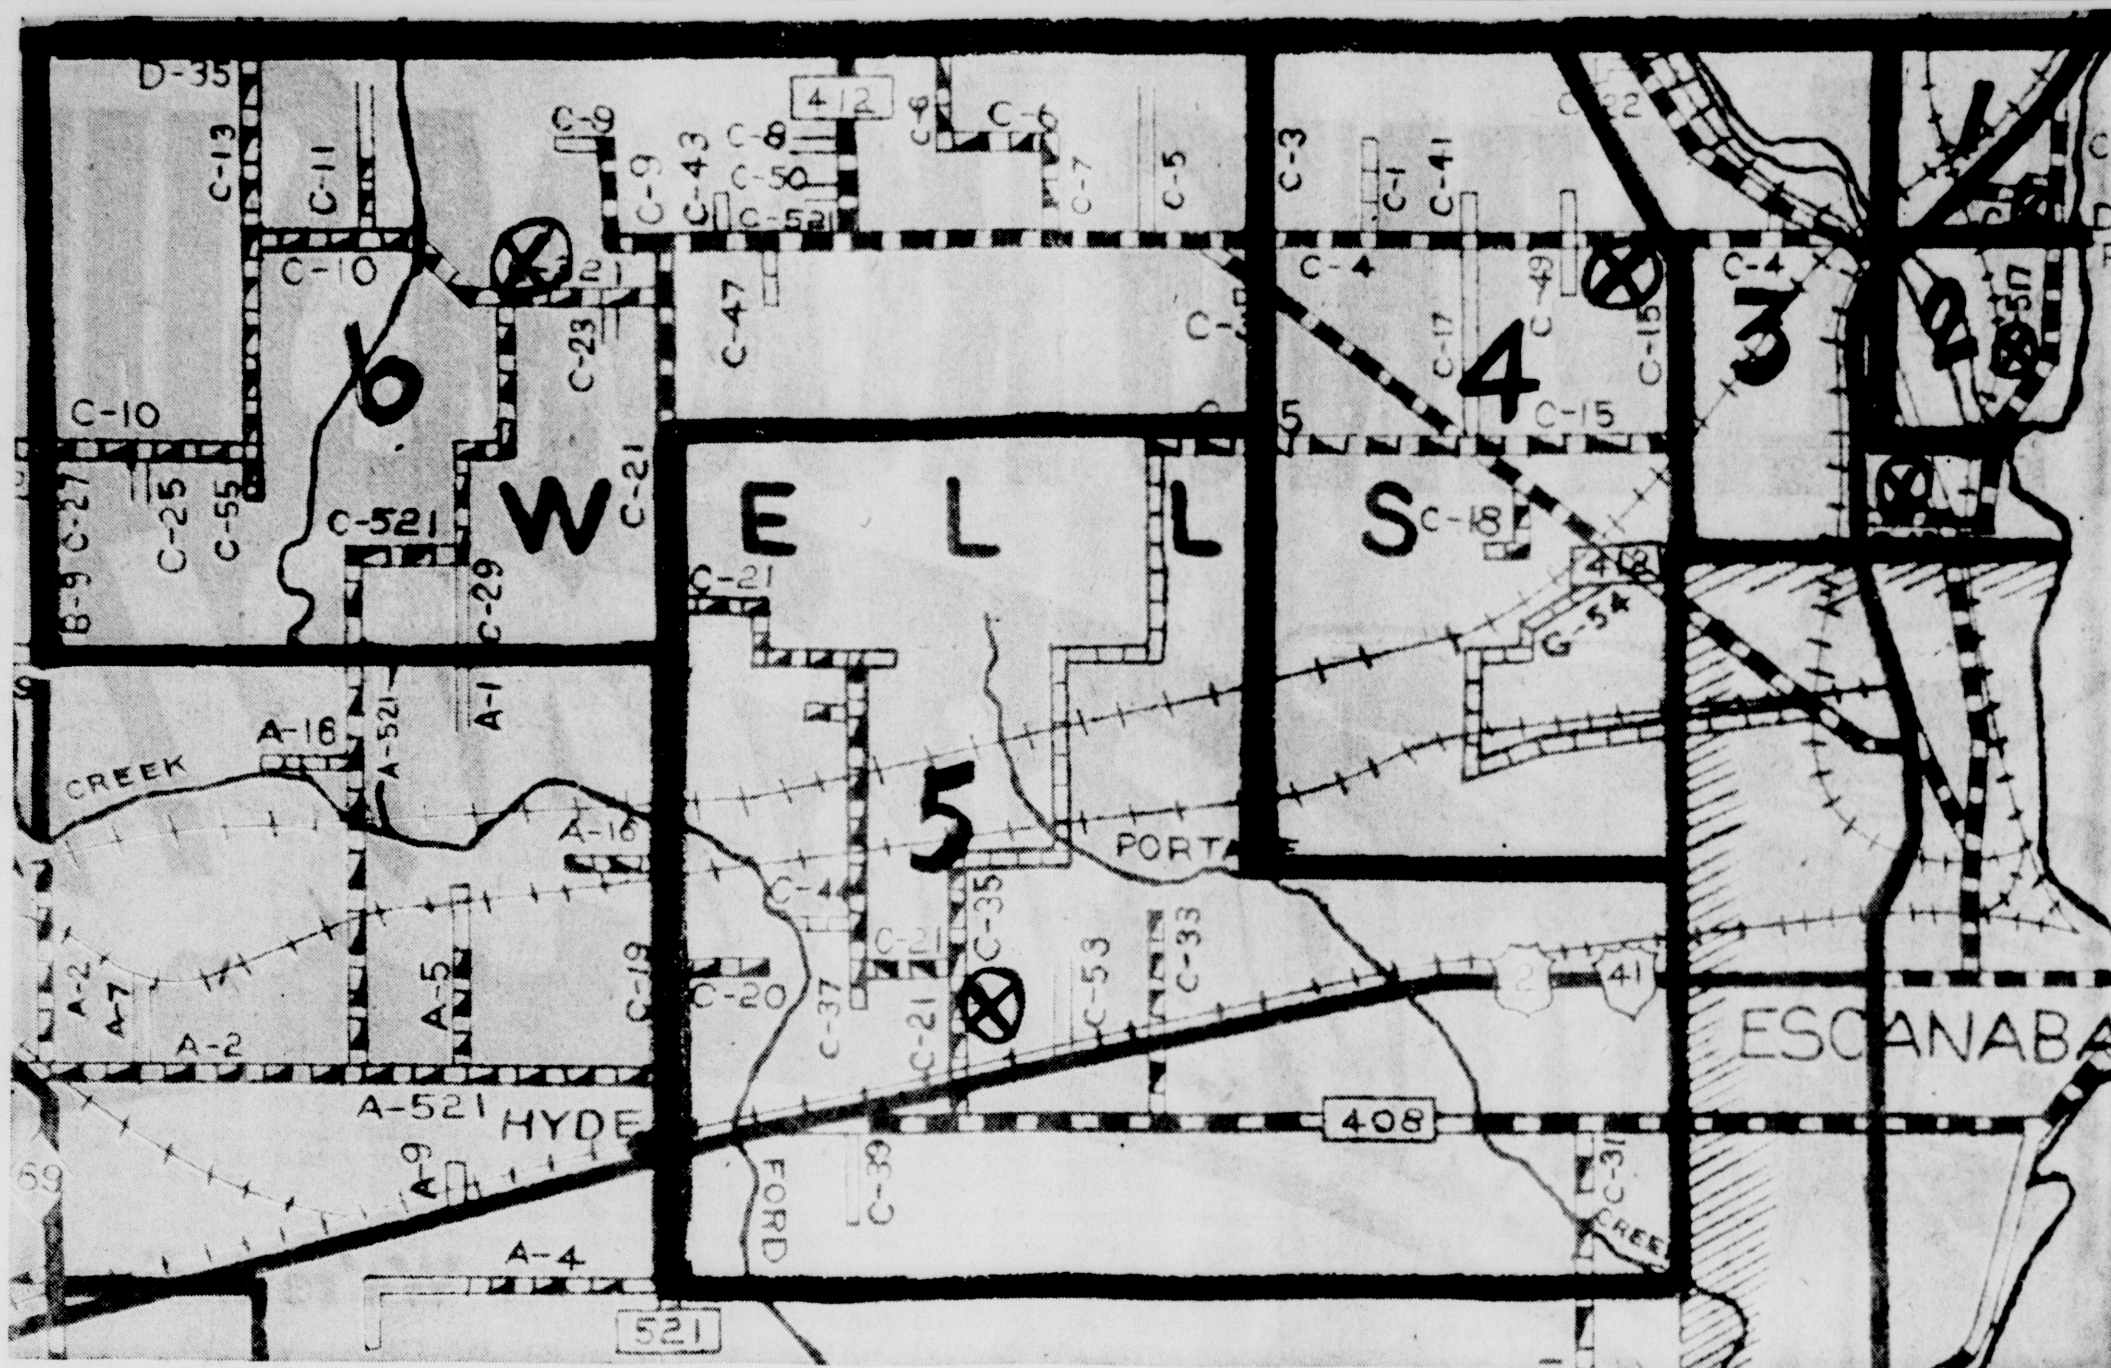

Young Trees Ready

LANSING (AP)—The State Conservation Department today said it was ready to accept applications for 16,300,000 seedlings and transplants for fall planting. The young trees are sold to farmers and other landowners for reforestation purposes at cost.

CHANGE SCHOOL AREAS IN WELLS DISTRICT — Opening of the new Pine Ridge school in Wells township has necessitated the relocation of some students. The Board of Education of Wells township has prepared the above map to assist in showing that: All students (Kindergarten through Eighth Grade) living in Section 1 on the above map will attend Bay View school, 25 pupils; Section 2, Chemical school, 30 pupils; Section 3 Wells Central school, 190-200 pupils; Section 4, Soo Hill school, 90-100 pupils; Section 5, Pine Ridge school, 90-100 pupils; Section 6, Newhall school, 80-90 pupils.

Bark River-Harris Schools Open For Fall Term Sept. 2

BARK RIVER — Bark River-Harris schools will reopen for the fall term Tuesday, Sept. 2, it was announced today by Supt. L. A. Richlen.

Buses will be on regular schedule the opening morning and one hour later than usual the first afternoon. All pupils are to register with their school principals including the kindergarten children. Parents are reminded that children must be 5 by Dec. 1 to enter school.

Senior high school students who did not file a tentative program last spring are to report to the main office at Harris before the opening of school.

Lunches will be served the opening day and children will be instructed on the charge during the year and when payment is to be made. The state grant for the support of the school lunch programs is two cents per meal less this year.

The teaching staffs of the schools are unchanged with the exception of the high school. Earl T. Carey of Omro, Wis., will serve as principal in place of Mrs. Marion Bruce, who is continuing on the staff, as a matter of perfection, as full time teacher of English. Mrs. Juska will teach home economics in place of Miss Harmola who has taken a position elsewhere.

Pattern Of Weather Has Little Change; Texas Remains Hot

(By The Associated Press) The nation's weather pattern showed little change today.

The hot weather continued in Texas, the Southwest and parts of the Central Rockies. It was pleasant summer weather over most of the central and Eastern sections of the country and some cooler air moved across the Northern Rockies and into the Northwestern Plains states. Temperatures were above 100 degrees again yesterday in Texas, marking the 24th straight day of readings of 100 or higher. No immediate relief was in sight.

There were several wet spots early today. Showers and thunderstorms were reported in Southern Florida, parts of the Central and Southern Rockies, and in the Dakotas southeastward to Iowa and West-Central Illinois. Skies were generally clear in other areas.

Pardoned Composer Up For Burglary Of 2 Milwaukee Homes

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Frank Grandstaff, pardoned from a life prison term after he gained national-wide recognition with a musical composition, was summoned into Municipal Court today for trial on charges of burglary.

Grandstaff, 50, is accused of burglarizing two Milwaukee homes on May 16. He has pleaded innocent. An attempt to win his release on the contention that was insufficient evidence to hold him for trial failed.

Grandstaff was pardoned in 1950 from the Tennessee prison in which he serving life as an habitual criminal after he composed his "Big Springs Cantata" for the 100th anniversary of Big Springs, Tex.

New Pine Ridge School Completed For Opening

Wells township's new Pine Ridge school, now being rushed to completion, will be ready for the opening of school Sept. 2, according to Lawrence Klug, Wells superintendent of schools.

Everything is in readiness at the building except some plumbing and electrical installations, which were delayed by slowness in receiving materials. This work is now being completed.

Total cost of the new structure, including all modern furniture and equipment, is approximately $85,000.

Eight-acre Site
The new school has three large class rooms, a large lunch room and kitchen, and a health room. Ample space for playground development is provided on the site.

Between 90 and 100 pupils are expected to enroll in the new Pine Ridge school. Because of the increased number to be accommodated at Pine Ridge, the transportation of students from that area to other schools in the district can be discontinued.

The new Pine Ridge school, providing two extra rooms, will mean two additional teachers there. Announcement of the teaching staff for all schools will be made within a couple days.

Rent Controller To Head OPS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today named Tighe E. Woods, now the nation's rent controller, to head of the Office of Price Stabilization.

Woods will succeed Ellis G. Arnall in the price post on Sept. 1. Arnall's resignation, effective on that date, has been in Truman's hands for some time.

Roger L. Putnam, chief of the economic stabilization agencies, made the announcement of Woods' appointment. He said he has not yet got around to recommending a successor to Woods as rent controller.

Arnall said he plans to return to Atlanta to resume his private law practices. He said he hopes to issue tomorrow a regulation allowing higher ceiling prices to manufacturers of products using steel, aluminum and copper. Prices of these metals have been raised and Arnall proposes to let the manufacturers pass along the increased cost.

Two Detroit Women Beaten And Raped; Housewife Killed

DETROIT (AP)—Stabbed and beaten, a 54-year-old housewife was found dead in her suburban St. Clair Shores home late yesterday. Nearby lay her cruelly beaten mother-in-law, Mrs. Edith Brewster, 80, who said the killer had raped them both.

The slaying victim was Mrs. Edna Boscoe, 54. Her husband Arnold, 56, told police he found the two women outside a bedroom door as he returned from work at the Hudson Motor Car Co.

The mother-in-law was hospitalized but her condition was not considered critical. Police said a Negro truck driver who delivered coal to the residence earlier in the day was being sought for questioning, although there was no definite link between him and the crime.

No More Bologna

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Frank Bologna, a meat-cutter from Buffalo, won the right yesterday to change his last name to Bolgan. Bologna is a cumbersome name, he told a State Supreme Court justice.

Disabled Veteran Held In Robbery Of Hemlock Bank

after serving as a Marine in World War II. He said he was receiving a $123-a-month disability pension for contracting dengue and rheumatic fever while in the service.

Being out of work, he said, he was financially hard-pressed because he has a wife and two children to support.

Flees In Borrowed Car
Police pieced together this story of the robbery:

Long came to Saginaw from Flint yesterday and, posing as a prospective customer, borrowed a car from a used car lot. Then he made a round of bars before heading for the Hemlock bank.

At the bank, he walked up to a window and pointed a foreign-made revolver at Mrs. Jean Rauchholz, 24, demanding that she "hand over the dough."

Mrs. Rauchholz emptied two cash drawers and handed the money to Long. Long stuffed the money in his shirt and fled in the borrowed car.

Alfred Basner, the bank cashier, came rushing out of a rear room and caught the car's license number. He called the sheriff's office and the alarm was spread.

Bills Scattered

Two Saginaw patrolmen spotted the car later near the Veterans Hospital here. They chased Long, who abandoned the car and fled on foot. Each officer fired warning shots as they pursued Long through a field. Finally Long dropped his gun and surrendered.

The officers found $255 scattered around the field, $500 on the floor of the car and more than $5,000 bundled in Long's shirt. Other bills found by residents of the area and turned in to police.

FBI agents questioned Long in connection with the recent bank robbery at Grand Blanc, 40 miles southeast of Hemlock, but he denied any connection with that hold-up.

Grand jury action against Jelke and three others was taken yesterday in the cafe society vice probe of call girls who reportedly got up to $500 nightly. Officials said the investigation was continuing.

One of those accused with Jelke pleaded guilty to a charge that he received prostitution earnings. He is 39-year-old movie bit-part actor Richard Wallace, also known as Richard Short. Sentencing was set for Sept. 9.

Jelke was named on eight counts of procuring, compulsory prostitution and living off prostitution proceeds. He also is charged with illegal possession of a gun.

Roman Catholic Nuns Get Morgan Mansion

NEW YORK (AP)—A 57-room Long Island mansion, once a part of the J. P. Morgan estate, will be sold to an order of Roman Catholic nuns—instead of to the Russian delegation to the United Nations.

An agreement for the sale was worked out here yesterday by attorneys for the Russians, the City of Glen Cove, N. Y.; and the nuns, the Sisters of St. John the Baptist. The Russians had tried to buy the house near Glen Cove. They paid from $14,000 to $15,000 for tax liens and offered a $30,000 certified check to clinch the bargain.

But the City of Glen Cove, which acquired the mansion in 1949 for back taxes of $5,233, returned the Russian check after some city residents protested against Russian occupation of the property.

Legion Parades On Fifth Avenue

NEW YORK (AP)—Thousands swung up Fifth Avenue today in the American Legion's massive display of the nation's past and present military might.

The parade of more than 75,000, expected to last at least 12 hours, stepped out from 31st street at 9:06 a. m. Its terminus was 43 blocks north at 74th street.

For many a marching Legionnaire it was the emotional high point of the 34th annual Legion convention here as the brass blared and the drums throbbed.

Marching with many a former buck private was a five-star general, Dwight D. Eisenhower. The Republican presidential candidate strode at the head of the Kansas contingent. His vice-presidential running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon, marched with the California delegation from his home state.

The sidewalks of Fifth Avenue, the avenue of victory parades, were jammed with craning spectators. Thousands more leaned from windows.

Herbert Hoover, National Production Authority agent, agreed it was a good idea.

Refugee From Fire, Herbert Hoover Jokes

BISHOP, Calif. (AP)—Herbert Hoover calmly cracked jokes as he strode in night clothes from the burning lodge of a friend at Silver Lake near here Sunday night.

"All my life I spent a good deal of time helping refugees," a companion, Dr. William Jenny, quoted the former President yesterday. "This is the first time I have felt like one."

The lodge, luxurious mountain home of importer Nate Milnor, was destroyed by fire. Hoover later boarded a plane for San Francisco.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market held to a fairly steady course today despite dragging tendencies in a few areas.

Gains and losses were mostly fractional. Trading again was at a rate of less than a million shares a day, the pace that was set a week ago today. Yesterday's total was 840,000 shares.

Boeing displayed a spate of activity with a gain of around a point, and National Distillers was off a major fraction and active.

Lower stocks included Standard Oil N. J., Gulf Oil United Gas Corp., American Tobacco, Lockheed, and Radio Corp.

Higher were Santa Fe, U. S. Gypsum, American Smelting, Dow Chemical, Goodyear, and Zenith Radio.

Stevenson Invited To Join Eisenhower At Minnesota Event

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois was invited today to speak at the National Plowing Contest Sept. 6, the same day Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is planning to address the expected crowd of more than 100,000.

The invitation was wired to the Democratic presidential nominee after the contest Board of Directors Monday night reversed its previous stand against having both candidates speak on the same day.

rounds, undertook to make change at their next stop.

It was several hours, however, before it was reported to police. For the company did a lot of back checking on the possibility there had been a failure to pick up a package of money earlier in the rounds.

Murray recalled the 1949 incident of Farmer's uniform and got a hunch.

Farmer was taken into custody at his house last night and questioned steadily until 5 a. m. He broke down, admitted the theft and took police to the amusement park where he dug up the money.

FBI agents and Brink's officials satisfied themselves that Farmer had nothing to do with the sensational $1,219,000 Brink's robbery in Boston Jan. 17, 1950, the biggest cash haul in history.

Model Husband

Neighbors of Farmer said they regarded him as a model husband and father. He and his wife have two children, Jo Ann, 6, and Billy, 5.

There have been two other major armored car thefts in recent years.

On May 12, 1950, four gunmen ambushed three Brink's guards in a carpet factory at Thompsonville, Conn., and made off with a $15,000 payroll.

Earlier this year, at Danvers, Mass., thieves looted an armored car of the U. S. Trucking Co., of $681,000. The three guards were having coffee in a drugstore.

None of those robberies has been solved.

Slot Machines Saved For National Defense

BOSTON (AP)—The payoff odds on about 100 slot machines were set today at 100-0 in favor of national defense.

The "one-armed bandits" were seized by federal agents and were to have been sunk at sea.

Herbert Willey, salvage officer for the Boston Chamber of Commerce, interceded yesterday with the suggestion they be used for scrap metal to help defense efforts.

Paul G. Carney, National Production Authority agent, agreed it was a good idea.

Harry's Record Plagues Adlai

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—I am beginning to feel a touch sorry for poor Mr. Adlai Stevenson, the reluctant candidate. Mr. Stevenson is wearing what the slang-swingers call a monkey on his back. Mr. Truman, after a suitable spate of demure self-effacement, has given him the Democrats' record to run on—and in no uncertain terms. This is almost like peddling cancer.

Mr. Stevenson begins his campaign as a gentle parrot knight, full of high-sounding phrases and delicate perceptions, and he makes noises about standing aloof from the messy boys in Washington and Missouri. Half-alooft seems to be better than no bread at all in this instance, because what bobs up since Mr. Truman spoke is a terse declaration of who's running what. So now we have the wistful Mister Stevenson with the delicate air as merely a Truman with table manners. There's no question of who's boss. Harry done said it in his conference—there isn't any other record but Roosevelt's and Truman's for poor, unwilling Adlai to run on.

Harry Won't Be Quiet
There was some talk of keeping Truman quiet in the campaign, so's Adlai could make genteel passes at the public without a lot of four-letters to blub the quality of Adlai's sensitive prose into insensibility. This idea lasted half a week, until Uncle Harry chose against personal anonymity and poked up for the party. For a fellow of Stevenson's delicacy, having Truman for an alter ego is comparable to the girl with a boorish brother trying to impress a blind date.

If Mr. Stevenson runs on the record, he runs blindly and unhappily. He runs on a record of scandal, of stupidity, of venality and semi-bankruptcy. He runs on inflation, on petty spitefulness. On Bill O'Dwyer and Harry Vaughan. This is a happy way to run?

What he's got to brag about is the Korean war, which got started but never got finished. It never got finished because the boys were afraid to win it. You cannot win a police action. You can only argue about it.

What he's got to brag about is the loss of China to the Reds, through Mr. Dean Acheson's lofty intelligence. What he has got to brag about is the firing of General MacArthur for the sin of wanting to win a war. And also the weight of Alger Hiss as a fine world-moulder to bear him down. For extras he has Acheson's espousal of Hiss.

No Happy Prospects
He's got the fact that money isn't worth a tinker's dam any more, and taxes are higher than a cat's back, and the cost of living is treecrop tall. He can boast about corruption in the court, and cheating in tax collection, and bribes and stealing all around and about from his boss's friends. He can always, in the absence of a better state to flourish, fall back on incompetence.

As an inheritance he can look forward to the hangers-on who surround Mr. Truman. He can be happy, in the anticipation of Matt Connolly and Harry Vaughan as aides, the first to get him out of trouble and the last to get him into it. This lad could be happier with an expectation of measles for Christmas.

Adlai Stevenson made a mess of mutters about not wanting the presidency, and when he made them I do not believe he knew how right he was. He said he'd shoot himself—if the nomination came his way, and he flatly refused, at first, even the idea of a draft.

NATO AIR CHIEF — Maj.-Gen. Warren R. Carter, USAF, will take over command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's air forces in northern Europe. He is a veteran of 30 years' experience in military aviation.

This could have been lip service, and it could have been an innocent negation of an unpleasant idea. It was probably just a hunch, an honest hunch. He didn't know he was walking into an organized gang, possibly, and has some ideas about running his own show his own way. The last few quotes from the lame-duck President of the United States have proved him wrong. The Democrats, including Steve, will operate under boss rule as they have operated for many a dreary day. That is why I say this poor fellow has a monkey on his back. It is dope-addict slang for a habit that even the bravest man can't shake.

Seismologist Allays Old Earthquake Fear

By GRAHAM BERRY
PASADENA, Calif. (P) — Two types of aftershocks from the big July 21 earthquake are still jolting Southern California. One is in the ground. The other is in men's minds.

Every time a quake occurs anywhere, age-old fallacies born of fear and uncertainty are sure to arise.

One notion is that there can be "earthquake weather." Another is that volcanoes are about to erupt in quake areas. It is feared that great cracks in the earth will open and swallow homes and people. And many persons believe that greater shocks are certain to follow.

Sliding Into Sea
Dr. Charles F. Richter, California Institute of Technology seismologist, found such false ideas widely discussed in the stricken Bakersfield area. Also popular was the idea that California is gradually sliding into the sea.

Instead of pooh-poohing these notions, Dr. Richter has inquired into their origin. By pointing out their beginnings, he hopes to uproot them, much as a psychiatrist works.

As for earthquake weather, Dr. Richter observes that "it is pictured as hot, humid and calm. This notion goes back to the ancient Greeks. They believed that earthquakes were caused by action of the wind, temporarily imprisoned in caverns under the earth."

No Link To Volcanoes
"Thus with the wind inside the earth, the earth's surface must be hot and calm. Greek writings on this 'theory' have been widely read."

Actually, emphasized Dr. Richter, weather has nothing to do with earthquakes — except during the start of the rainy season in California.

At that time—the end of summer—the seismologist has noted a slight increase in the number of small earth shocks.

This he attributes to the cold polar masses spreading southward, increasing the atmospheric pressure against the earth.

As for volcanic action, it has nothing to do with earthquakes on the Pacific Coast of the United States, the scientist says. Quakes are caused by "mountain-building forces building up pressures in the earth to the point where the earth can stand no more pressure and ruptures or fractures, invariably along fault planes. These faults are scars from old ruptures."

Volcanic action can cause localized quakes in volcanic areas from subterranean explosions and the sudden movements of molten rock.

Just Growing Pains
Dr. Richter said there is truth in the idea that earthquakes are California's growing pains. The state is very young, geologically, he explains.

As for the fantasy that the state is sliding into the sea, Dr. Richter smiled. This comes, he said, from geological reports that the California coastal section, from San Francisco south, is moving northwest in relation to the rest of the continent at the rate of four inches a year.

Many persons fear the opening of great fissures in the earth during tremors. Cracks do open, but a quake is more likely to close a crack than to open a new one, the scientist said.

"Total casualties from cracks opened by California earthquakes are one cow lost in a fissure during the San Francisco quake of 1906," he said.

"People shouldn't be afraid that greater shocks will follow the first big jolt. The pattern of most disturbances is for the first shake to be followed by smaller and smaller disturbances."

HUGE STADIUM
The University of Illinois' Memorial stadium has a greater percentage of seats between the goal posts than any other football stadium in the world.

Mumps Prove Fatal

ENCINO, Calif. (P)—Actor Roy Rogers' youngest daughter, Robin Elizabeth, died yesterday of complications following mumps. She would have been 2 tomorrow.

The baby was Rogers' only child by his actress wife Dale. Rogers has three other children, Cheryl, 12, Linda Lou, 9, and Roy Jr., 6, by his first wife, Mrs. Grace Arlene Rogers, who died in 1946 after the birth of Roy Jr.

Steady-Nerved Boy Beats Girls To Win Auto Driving Title

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — You can relax now, men. A steady-nerved 18-year-old boy is the teen-age automobile driving champion. Those girls some men feared might win and humiliate the male race were far behind.

Martin G. Desilets of Longmeadow, Mass., who can drive a car unswervingly down a line — and then back straight along it, too — won the first national teen-age Road-so title yesterday with an amazing display of control and driving skill.

Pontiac Youth Second

He defeated 34 other state champions — including two girls — by piling up 801.18 points out of a possible 1,000. That's 27 points better than the runnerup, Milton J. Vaverek of Pontiac, Mich.

Martin, who has been driving for two years and five months, finished the way a champion should. He started out only so-so on the written tests, but when it came to testing driving skills, he was superb.

He scored 375.70 points out of a possible 400, far ahead of anyone else in this department.

Simple Test Hardest

The simplest looking test proved to be the hardest. It consisted of driving a car in a straight line, and stopping it so that the bumper — and then the wheels — would be inches from a finish line.

Almost all contestants had trouble with this, losing as high as two-thirds of their points here. Desilets was almost perfect.

In the celebrated tennis ball test, in which a driver had to drive a car between balls set so closely together only an inch and a half clearance was left on each side, the champ did all right, too. He knocked off only four.

His reward: A $1,000 scholarship which he'll use at the University of Virginia.

Crippled By Polio

Vaverek got a $500 scholarship. Fighting through to victory is no novelty for him incidentally. He was a victim of polio which left one of his legs shorter than the other. But he proved that need be no insurmountable obstacle.

Other winners: Kenneth McGarr, Akron, Ohio, third, $250 scholarship; Ed Miller, State College, Pa., fourth, $150 scholarship; and Dale P. Hopkins, St. Albans, Va., fifth, $150 scholarship.

The contest, sponsored jointly by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, is aimed at teaching youngsters the importance of skillful driving.

Oh, yes, the girls. There had been considerable worry among some males lest the girls should come in first and give women enough backseat driving ammunition to last a lifetime.

But Gay Holleran of Houston and Claudette Westerfield of Mendenhall, Miss., wound up out of the running, 23rd and 30th respectively. Claudette won the unofficial honesty award, though.

"I ran right through a stop sign on my road test," she reported. "I didn't even see it."

Consumer Goods Prices Held Back; Trend Is Upward

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Sawyer says that prices of consumer goods probably won't increase much the rest of this year, but suggests the long-term trend still may be upward.

"Major price changes are not indicated for the balance of this year," said Sawyer, summing up results of a survey by the department on the effects of the 56-day steel strike that ended July 26.

Despite the $5.20 a ton steel price increase that went along with the settlement, the survey showed many businessmen plan to absorb all or part of the higher metal cost rather than try to pass it along to the public.

Sawyer gave this reason: "It is clear that general refusal on the part of the consumer to pay higher prices would make price increases impossible to maintain."

The possibility of higher prices in the more distant future, he indicated, depends on whether a general round of wage and price boosts is now beginning or ending.

But he said the effects of the steel settlement have been "negligible" so far and that "alarmists' statements or actions are not warranted and not helpful."

Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall, who had favored a smaller steel price

GO-BETWEEN — Lt. Gen. Thomas D. White, USAF, is the new liaison officer between the Air Force and Congress, following his appointment as director of legislation and liaison in the office of Air Secretary W. S. Symington. Considered a likely prospect to become the next Air Force chief of staff, General White has been serving as deputy chief of staff for operations since July, 1951.

Churches Now Claim 88,673,000 In U. S. A.

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 88,673,000 Americans — more than ever before in the history of the nation — belonged to a church or other religious body at the end of 1951, says the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.

The council reported yesterday that the figures represented an increase of 1,842,515 over 1950, a growth of 2 per cent compared with an estimated population increase of 1.7 per cent.

Goods Go Overseas

NEW YORK (AP) — Church World Service says it has shipped $2,187,739 worth of goods—some 6,679,923 pounds of food, clothing, medicine and other articles—to Europe and Asia during the first seven months of 1952.

The service is the overseas relief arm of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the increase, said after the settlement that it would cost the average American family $100 a year.

Arnall said yesterday the cost of living now is at the highest level in history—and is continuing to rise.

Scientist Against Use Of Atom Power

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Hans Thirring, one of the first scientists to point the way to possible development of a hydrogen bomb, came out today against the use of atomic energy to generate industrial power.

Thirring, an Austrian scientist, contended that world uranium supplies are far too scarce to be used for power while other reserves of energy remain virtually unlimited.

Writing in the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, he said there probably is sufficient uranium to power the world for three to five generations. But he added:

"It can easily happen that at some future time when our civilization will have reached the advanced stage enabling it to start really good places with uranium and thorium (a similar metal), it will find left to it none but miser-

Barefoot Sect Helps In California Disasters

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Eleven members of the Fountain of the World order, a religious sect, added to the bizarre scene downtown following Friday's quake.

Dressed in long robes and barefooted, the seven men and four women arrived here from Canoga Park, Calif., to offer their assistance in disaster relief. The men wore long beards.

Members of the order are a familiar sight at disasters in Southern California and elsewhere.

It is believed that the harp originated from music produced by warriors who twanged the strings of their bows.

Lost 20 Lbs. Ann Arbor Lady Did It With Rennel

Mrs. Elmer Rush, 608 High Street, Ann Arbor, Mich., writes: "I have been using Rennel Concentrate for three months and the difference in my size is amazing. My friends say I look so much more attractive. I have lost 20 lbs. Losing weight with Rennel is just as simple as that."

Thousands have discovered this amazing simple home recipe to be the safe economical no diet way to reduce. Obtain liquid Rennel at your druggist, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you do not lose weight with the very first bottle just return it for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel.

Weakness Of National Defense Blamed On Truman Administration

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Edward Martin (R-Penn.) charged the Truman administration Friday with failure to provide adequate national defense.

Martin, in a speech before the American Legion's National Security Commission, said:

"We cannot escape the conclusion that, after six years of tremendous military expenditures, our national security is in danger."

Martin added that he was "not convinced" that recent rationing of some types of ammunition — for Korean combat and for training — could be blamed entirely on the steel strike.

"Mismanagement of defense expenditures," he said, was "the real root of the trouble."

Martin, a retired general, recommended a regular army of "modest size," but with an all-powerful navy and air force.

Record Turkey Crop Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers are producing a record turkey crop and supplies for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday markets will be larger than last year.

The Agriculture Department announced yesterday that the turkey crop is expected to be 13 per cent larger than in 1951. Supplies for holiday markets, however, will be up about 3.5 per cent.

Much of the increase, the department said, is in small Beltsville whites, produced to meet year-round demands for turkeys weighing much less than the traditional festive turkey.

The 1952 crop was estimated at 58,956,000 compared with 52,252,000 last year. Prices now are about 3.4 cents a pound less than the 35.3 cents a pound average at this time a year ago.

Fall Term At U Of M Will Begin Sept. 22

ANN ARBOR—New buildings, new curriculums and one new dean will help to highlight the ever-changing scene on the University of Michigan campus when the fall semester opens on Monday, September 22.

As usual there will be a week-long orientation program before the opening of classes so that entering freshmen and transfer students can get fully acquainted with the University. Registration starts September 17.

University officials have been amazingly accurate in the past in estimating enrollment but world unrests and military needs are now making it more difficult.

16,000 Students
President Harlan Hatcher, who will be starting his second year as head of the University, and his administrative officers prepared an operating budget for the coming year based on the expectation of at least 16,000 students. This figure will have to stand until the registration count can be completed. One year ago there were 17,213 students taking resident credit courses.

Two new buildings, both constructed from funds provided by the Legislature will be ready for use this fall. A three-unit addition to Angell Hall, costing $4,784,403, will provide modern and much-needed additional space for the College of Literature, Science and the Arts.

One of the units contains 47 new classrooms, department quarters for journalism, a vision laboratory and a psychology workshop and laboratory. In a second unit will be office space for 195 faculty members as well as departmental quarters for English, history, political science, psychology and sociology. Connecting the two units will be a story-and-half unit housing four lecture rooms.

More Medical Students
The other new structure is a $3-726,800 Out-patient Clinic at University Hospital. This provides modern and expended facilities for handling patients who receive treatment but do not require hospitalization. This unit also is another step towards a centralized medical center and will help the Medical School provide the necessary training for its increased enrollment. The freshmen class was stepped up from 150 to 200 students last fall and this increase carried over into the sophomore class and repeated at the freshmen level will require the Medical School to provide training for 100 more students than it has had to train prior to 1951.

All of the University's 15 schools and colleges keep up a continuous study of their course offerings and make changes as man's knowledge expands or need develops for some type of instruction.

A new program in physical therapy will be offered by the Medical School. A three-year pre-professional program in the literary college is required followed by two semesters in the Medical School and three months of clinical training.

4-Year Nursing Course
The School of Nursing will substitute a new four-year program for its previous offerings of a three-year course leading to a diploma and a five-year program for a degree.

A pre-business curriculum will be offered by the College of Literature, Science and the Arts in cooperation with the School of Business Administration.

The School of Natural Resources will provide new courses in the development of international resources and in the conservation of mineral resources. The School of Music will expand its voice instruction to provide a major in the field of opera.

The College of Pharmacy will inaugurate much-needed courses for prospective teachers of pharmacy and in addition will inaugurate collaboration with the Department of Pharmacy at University Hospital to provide increased pharmaceutical experience for all senior students.

In the College of Literature, Science and the Arts, freshmen will be permitted to take beginning courses in economics and anthropology as the college continues its efforts to permit new students to escape repetition of their areas of study in high school.

New Dean of Lit School
The college's Department of Botany also will benefit from a new laboratory and greenhouse at the Botanical Gardens where undergraduate students can gain actual experience in growing plants.

Charles E. Odgaard, will be the new Dean who takes over leadership of the biggest unit on campus, the College of Literature, Science

Songstress Peggy Lee Snagged By Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It took television and a busted marriage to do it, but songstress Peggy Lee has finally been snagged by the movies.

The blonde Miss Lee is playing the leading role opposite Danny Thomas in "The Jazz Singer." What's more, she has signed for two pictures a year for Warners with an option for another. This is a gal who has turned down film offers before, so I asked her why the change of heart.

"Yes, I've had offers before," she admitted. "I guess I talked to MGM three different times about it. Finally I told the casting director, Billy Grady, that we should call the whole thing off. 'You're just wasting your time and mine,' I said."

Marriage Flops Anyway
"One of the reasons I didn't want to do movies was that I was married (to Dave Barbour) at the time. I was already involved in too many things. I knew that if I added movies to them, it might be the last straw that would break up the marriage. As it was, the marriage broke up anyway."

"Another reason was that I just couldn't face it. Getting up before an audience had always been torture for me. I guess I've always been shy. I always had to give myself a pep talk before I went out to sing. I said to myself that if I gave in and didn't meet the challenge, that I wouldn't be able to do anything in life."

"So I always managed to get myself out on the stage. Once I started singing, I felt fine."

Scared To Death
I wondered how a girl with such fear of audiences could get started in the singing business.

"Ever since I can remember, I had a desire to sing," she explained. "I had a driving urge to express myself in song, and it pushed me on, even though I was scared to death of performing before people."

Peggy also credits television with helping to conquer her uneasiness.

She spent a year or two in the East on various shows.

"It was a grind, but the experience was valuable," she commented. "I was on several times a week, and we did everything. We had a Llama on the Steve Allen show and I grew very fond of it. One day I was singing a song to the Llama on the air, but it kept snuggling up to me. I realized it was stealing the closeup, so I gave it a push and said, 'I'm as strong as you are.' I kept right on singing."

Warmth and Sincerity
Peggy was brought to films by Michael Curtiz, who is currently directing her. He visited her several times while she was singing at a Sunset Strip night spot.

As he explains it: "I realized that God had given her an unusual ability to express warmth and sincerity in song. So why shouldn't she be able to do the same with spoken words?"

Some eyebrows were raised when Peggy was signed by Warners. The queen of the lot is another blond singer named Doris Day. No. 2 box office draw among the female stars. (No. 1: Betty Grable). But Curtiz asserted there would be no conflict between Misses Lee and Day, who are both his discoveries.

"They are entirely different types," said the director. "Doris is the refreshing, bubbling kind of extrovert—the all-American girl. Peggy is the deep, thoughtful introvert with a great deal of feeling."

Alcoholism Blamed On Social Drinking

TORONTO (AP)—An American expert on alcohol says more than half of today's alcoholics developed the craze through years of steady social drinking.

Dr. Harry S. Warner, general secretary of the intercollegiate Association for Study of the Alcohol Problem, told 100 Canadian and American students that research by the Yale School of Alcohol Studies showed personality

Brakeless Bus Driver Saves 35

RED BLUFF, Calif. (AP)—A cool-headed driver maneuvered a brakeless San Quentin Prison bus on a wild plunge around hairpin curves down a mountainside near here Sunday night, finally steering it off the highway onto a rocky hillside.

Police said 11 prison trustees and a guard were hospitalized for injuries not considered critical. The other 23 men aboard suffered scratches and bruises.

Hemmed in by a sheer cliff at one edge of the road and a drop-off at the other, driver C. M. Armstrong, 43, kept control as the bus whipped around curves and continued to pick up speed.

Then, at a brief break in the cliff face, he pulled the speeding bus off the highway and over 300 feet of rocky hillside before it struck a huge rock.

The prison unit had been on fire-fighting duty east of here and was enroute back to a fire camp near Redding.

U. S. Enters 4 Movies In Venice Festival

VENICE (AP)—The United States has entered seven motion pictures in a bid for top honors at the current Venice International Film Festival, which opened Wednesday.

The strongest American bid is expected from Charlie Chaplin's long awaited "Limelight," which also brings Buster Keaton back to the screen.

There were rumors last night, however, that Chaplin might withdraw the film from the competition for undisclosed reasons.

conditions as the chief factor in about 45 per cent of all cases of alcoholism. Social drinking, he said, initiated the remaining 55 per cent.

He said there are 950,000 serious alcoholics in the United States.

Fire Scatters 30 East Harlem Horses

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirty truck horses scampered about East Harlem Sunday in a brief spell of freedom after a fire in the basement of their stable.

Police corralled most of the horses with little trouble. But two tried to cross a bridge before police cars surrounded them in a motorized roundup; and two others romped away to Central Park, where they were found grazing contentedly.

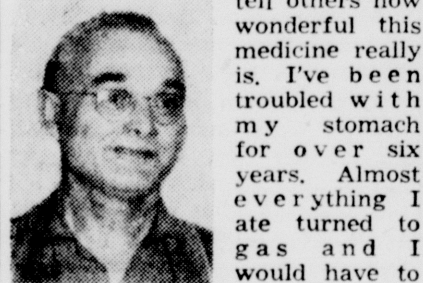

Deborah have returned to their home in Detroit after spending several weeks at the Charles Payne home.

AGONIZED by STOMACH DISTRESS GAS, INDIGESTION

I took O-JIB-WA BITTERS for gas, indigestion, bloating and heartburn and it really helped me says Mr. Joseph Blazek, 207 N. 10th St., Escanaba, Michigan. Unfortunately, I suffered six years before I tried it.

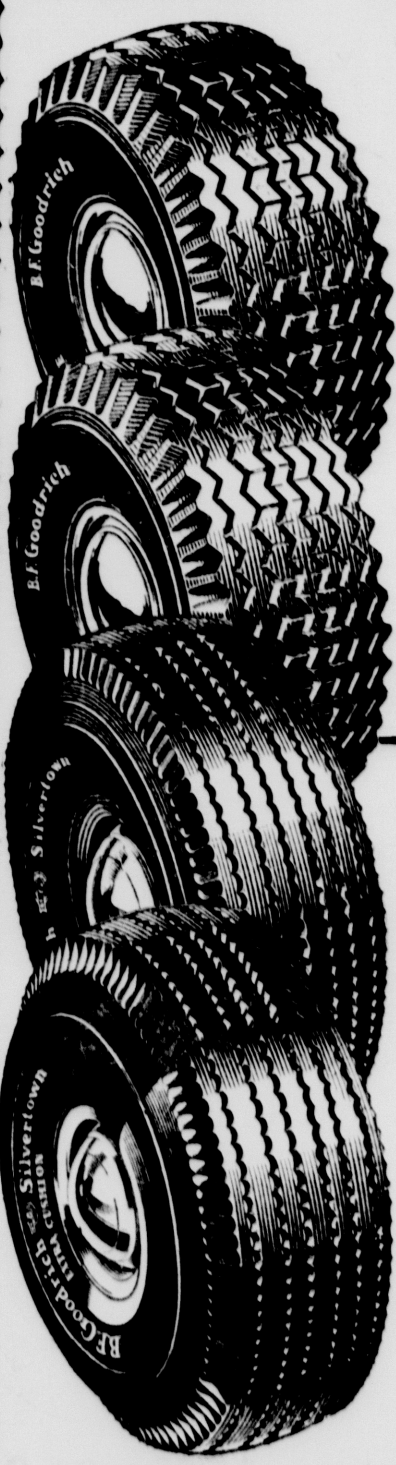

"I'm so happy with the results that I received using O-JIB-WA BITTERS that I want to publicly tell others how wonderful this medicine really is. I've been troubled with my stomach for over six years. Almost everything I ate turned to gas and I would have to take baking soda to get some relief, but the next day, I suffered as bad as ever. At times, I would bloat up so that it was hard to catch my breath and I was always suffering from heartburn. The only food that agreed with me was food boiled so long that the taste was gone and wasn't fit to eat. Several friends recommended O-JIB-WA BITTERS so highly that I decided to try it, and am glad to say that in just a week, I was much better. Now, I am completely better, and can eat anything I want without the slightest fear of suffering from gas and indigestion. O-JIB-WA BITTERS did wonders for me." Eleanor Frisque Is The Bride Of Leo Gorzinski

Leo Gorzinski of Powers claimed Eleanor Lorraine Frisque of Wilson as his bride at a 9 a. m. ceremony in St. Francis Xavier Church, Spalding, Aug. 23. Rev. Fr. Bernard Karol performed the service before an altar banked with bellow and pink gladiolus.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Frisque of Nadeau and the bridegroom's mother is Mrs. Stella Gorzinski of Powers.

Bride In White Satin
The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gownned in traditional white satin featuring a full skirt and bracelet sleeves. She carried a bouquet of white roses, mums, and gladiolus tied with white ribbon streamers.

Lorraine Frisque as maid of honor, wore green net over satin and carried a bouquet of yellow gladiolus and mums. The bridesmaid, Marie Gravillon, wore pink net over satin and her bouquet was of white and pink glads and mums.

Serving as best man was Jack Grozinski and Vincent Frisque was usher. Mrs. Peter Kass played the bridal music.

Mrs. Frisque watched her daughter's wedding wearing a navy blue dress with a corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother was gownned in a green, white and brown print and wore a corsage of red roses.

Will Live In Powers
The bridal breakfast was held at the home of the bridegroom, and the dinner for 50 guests at the home of the bride's parents.

The newlyweds will make their home in Powers, Rte. 1.
Attending the wedding from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Massart, Forestville, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Alois Tremel, Luxemburg, Wis.; Miss Donna Eastberg, Menominee; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frisque, Stephenson; Ben Butler, Gladstone.

Fathers Must Teach Sons Masculinity

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.

One of the common complaints today is that our men are influenced too much by petticoat rule. They are almost constantly under the influence of women throughout their early years. What effect will this have on them is the question this mother asks:

(Q) "I have three sons, ranging in age from 12 to 6 years. My husband is a fine man but he insists that rearing children is the wife's job. When he comes home after work, he spends little time with the boys and never takes them fishing or anywhere with him over weekends. He is fond of the boys but complains they are 'sissies' and not 'regular boys' as he and his brothers were at their ages. Is this my fault?"

(A) If they're 'sissies,' your husband is to blame more than you. The mother's job is to see that a child's physical needs are properly cared for, but it is the duty of both parents to take care of the child's psychological needs.

Both boys and girls need a father's influence. It is important that they get the masculine point of view and learn to see things through the eyes of both sexes.

In the case of boys, this is especially important. When boys are brought up at home and in school by women, they see things as women see them, and this makes them effeminate. Furthermore, women spoil their sons so much they grow up to be less masculine than they should be.

Urge your husband to devote more of his time to your sons in the future. Encourage him to play games with them, to take them out fishing and camping with him, and to teach them to do things men do.

Most important, let him teach them to think as men do. This they can learn only by being with their father and his friends. It is most important for boys to learn to think and act as men when they are still young.

Dr. Hurlock will help you with family problems. Write her in care of this newspaper.

National President To Address W. C. T. U. Rally Here Thursday

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin of Evanston, Ill., president of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union and first vice president of the World W.C.T.U., will address a public rally at the First Presbyterian Church in Escanaba Thursday, Aug. 28 at 8 p. m.

The rally program will include selections by the Escanaba High School Band Ensemble under the direction of Robert Meyer, a Scripture reading and prayer by the Rev. Joseph S. Dickson, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church and selections by the Orpheus Choral Club under the direction of Mrs. M. H. Garrard Jr.

Mrs. Colvin is internationally known as a temperance, church, and welfare leader and club woman.

Re-Elected in England

She has been president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union since 1944, and was re-elected to her office in the World's at its 1950 convention in Hastings, England. Previous to 1944, she was for 18 years president of the New York State Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Mrs. Colvin has served as vice-president of the National Council of Women; is now the first vice-president of the National Temperance and Prohibition Council of which she was formerly president, and a member of the League of Women Voters and of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She is a graduate of Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., and took two years of graduate study in Columbia University, majoring in political science. She was (in 1947) awarded the degree, LL.D., by Wheaton College, and was previously similarly honored by Houghton College, N. Y. She also holds the degrees, DAO (Doctor of the Art of Oratory), awarded her by State College of the Spoken Word, Boston, and the degree, L.H.D. from Southwestern College, Winfield, Kan.

Leader in Church

Long a leader in the Methodist Church, she was a delegate to its 1948 Quadrennial General Conference, as well as to the church's General Conference in Columbus, Ohio in 1936, and to its North-eastern Jurisdictional Conference in 1940, 1944 and 1948.

Mrs. Colvin is editor-in-chief of the Union Signal, weekly publication of the National WCTU and a contributor to other magazines.

Her husband is D. Leigh Colvin, temperance writer and lecturer, who was candidate for president of the United States on the Prohibition ticket in 1936.

Today's Recipes

Egg and Cheese Dish
Ingredients: 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, 3/4 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 cup grated soft cheddar cheese, 6 hard-cooked eggs, 2 cups corn flakes (crushed into fine crumbs), 1 tablespoon butter or margarine.

Method: Make a white sauce of the 3 tablespoons butter, flour, salt, pepper, mustard and milk; when thickened and bubbly stir in cheese over low heat just until melted. Turn sauce into baking dish (about 10 x 6 x 2 inches). Cut eggs in half lengthwise and arrange over sauce. Mix corn flake crumbs with 1 tablespoon butter; sprinkle over eggs and sauce. Place under low-heat broiling unit just until crumbs are browned. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Honey Peach Pudding
Ingredients: 1 No. 2 1/2 can cling peach halves, 1 cup fine graham cracker crumbs, 1/2 cup honey, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 4 eggs.

Method: Drain peaches. Slice 4 to 5 halves to make 1 cup pulp. Place remaining halves in bottom of lightly greased casserole. Add graham cracker crumbs to peach pulp, honey and salt. Beat eggs well and stir into peach mixture. Pour over peach halves in casserole. Bake in moderate (350°F.) oven about 1 hour and 15 minutes. Serve warm with cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Handbags Go To School

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Fashion Editor

Most college girls aren't burdened by an excess amount of cash, but they need a wardrobe of handbags just the same, to carry such essentials as compact, lipstick, comb, tissues, pencils, date pads, address books, identification cards, snapshots and bobby pins.

This year manufacturers have recognized this fact, and have put out a special line of back-to-school handbags with definite college airs.

A recent survey shows that college girls like a wardrobe of four handbags: a roomy shoulder strap bag for weekends and travel; a tailored "clutch" or envelope bag for campus use because it is so easy to carry with their books; a dressy bag for dates and informal evenings; and an evening bag for proms and formal dances.

In the fall lineup are campus handbags to fit all these classifications, and to suit every taste. Winter cottons are used in some of the smartest new bags, which employ such fabrics as denim, velveteen, corduroy and sailcloth, usually bound with leather. Printed challis also is used in some of the season's smartest bags, as is camel hair.

Wool plaids and flannels are used in bags to match favorite campus clothes — and of course the soft polished leathers are still high in the popularity poll.

Odds n' Ends

It's a most unusual day warm for Escanaba to make it an enjoyable one here's an extra end to put that ice cream in butter crunch rings melt 1/2 cup butter, combine 1 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, add 1/4 cup water cook over low heat, stir constantly for 4 or 5 minutes after mix starts to boil quickly pour over 5 cups of corn flakes pack in oiled individual molds and chill.

The did you know and how could you live without such news department: that September isn't just the back to school month, but child foot health month, better breakfast month, and includes national tie week, doll week and dog week oh, yes, national kid's day is far from everyday it's Sept. 27.

For croutons to make that plain soup fancy trim crusts from slices of bread and brush the slices lightly with butter or margarine cut in cubes and place in a pan in a moderately hot oven, stirring occasionally until they are browned and dry.

Turtleneck halter style sweaters made in dark colors are the thing for fall suits and can double for evening wear for week-end trips it's a big space saver.

Shrimp and vegetables mix well surround cooked shrimps on lettuce with tips of cooked asparagus, hard cooked egg and tomato slices, all well chilled serve dressing separately.

Storm coats that are finger-tip length with skirts to match these are heavy, practical and don't look bulky also, the price isn't as much as for the average 3-4 length topper.

One last cooler before fall actually sets in with coffee brew coffee 1 1/2 times as strong as usual combine 1 cup hot coffee with 2 tablespoons of chocolate syrup and blend pour over ice cubes and add cream to taste top with fluffs of whipped cream and if the weather sud-

This Idea Gets Kiddies to Drink More Milk . . .

By MARY MANNING

Here's a way to get your children to drink more milk. It's a way so simple you'll find it hard to believe—but it really works. Try it. Simply set cold FAIRMONT MILK on the table by the pitcherful.

There's something about having a pitcher of ice cold FAIRMONT MILK on the table that makes the children ask for "seconds."

And everyone—adults and teenagers, as well as the younger children—should drink several glasses of this nourishing food every day. Doctors tell us we never outgrow our need for milk.

Once you taste a glass of cold, fresh FAIRMONT MILK, I'm sure you'll say, "Here at last is milk that's really delicious and refreshing."

FAIRMONT MILK has a deep-down creamy goodness that pleases—satisfies—refreshes.

It's the "GROW" Food—it's the "GO" Food. Compare FAIRMONT with any other milk. See what folks mean when they say FAIRMONT is the best milk in town.

Rural School Opening Listed

With the exception of a Cooks consolidated school, all rural schools of Schoolcraft County will resume class activity Tuesday, Sept. 2, it is announced by Mrs. Ada S. Watson, county superintendent.

The Cooks school will not resume classes until Wednesday, Sept. 3, the same time as Manistique public schools, it is reported by Ray Ranguette, superintendent.

The township district teaching staff has been announced as follows:

Doyle—Whitdale school, Carl Simi, principal, Mrs. Grace Jewett and Mrs. Kathryn Beal; Gulliver school, Mrs. Lilah Wilson.

Germfask—Neil Jacobson, principal, Mrs. Mary Ruth England, Mrs. Ruth Brown, Miss Beatrice Thorley and Mrs. Leah Nelson.

Inwood—Grades, Katherine Feldhauser, kindergarten; Mary Gorga, first and second grades; Marie Knuth, third and fourth grades; Zada Sheahan, fifth and sixth grades; Charles Nelson, seventh and eighth grades. High school—Ray Ranguette, superintendent, agriculture; Robert Thibault, principal, coach and shop; Howard Schwartz, science and assistant coach; Thora Atwater, home economics; Lenore Tatrow, English and history; Katherine Feldhauser, commercial. A new music teacher will be engaged as soon as possible, Ranguette said.

Manistique—Miller school, Mrs. Josephine Schnurer; Brick school, Mrs. Dorothy Giovannini; Town Hall school, Miss Janet Thill; Kandell school, Mrs. Leona Orr. Mueller—Frank Gordon, principal, Mrs. Georgia Hettel and Mrs. Marion Osterhout.

Seney—Erich Werner, principal, Mrs. Mae Hutt. Thompson—Mrs. Alleen Nelson. In preparation for the opening of the Cooks Consolidated School, a general meeting of teachers has been called for 9 a. m., Tuesday, Sept. 2, the superintendent announced.

The hot lunch program will not be in operation at Cooks until after the potato harvest.

A new 60-passenger school bus for transporting Inwood students to the consolidated school has been ordered and is expected to be here and in operation Sept. 3.

The Cooks school during the summer months has undergone an extensive renovation program, including the painting of class rooms and gymnasium, sanding and varnishing of floors, construction of a new concrete entrance, and erection of a new flag pole.

Fire Burns Three Acres Near Cooks Saturday Evening

A fire reported at 5:30 p. m. Saturday burned three acres of privately-owned grassland a half mile east of Cooks, it is reported by Edwin Crook, Manistique forest ranger.

The blaze, burning along the Soo Line tracks, was extinguished with the help of volunteers from the Cooks area.

Slate Immunization Clinic On Thursday

One more immunization clinic has been scheduled before the re-opening of school, it is announced at the office of the Alger-Schoolcraft Health Department.

The clinic is slated for 1:30 p. m., Thursday, Aug. 28, at the Court House. Children from three months up to 10 years are eligible.

Shots will be given for whooping cough, diphtheria and tetanus. Smallpox vaccinations also will be administered.

Historic Background Of Mackinac Novel Is Narrated By Author

Discovery of numerous inaccuracies in accepted accounts of the War of 1812, particularly as they relate to Mackinac Island, led to the writing of the historical novel, "Citadel of the Lakes," the author of the popular book, Myron David Orr, told Manistique Rotarians yesterday noon.

When long investigation of original records of the conflict, both in the United States and in Canada and England, revealed that the true story of the era had never been told, he decided to present his new historic facts to the public in the form of a novel, Orr said.

The story told in "The Citadel of the Lakes," Orr stated, is historically factual and all major characters are based on individuals actually living and participating in the dramatic events of the time.

One major conclusion was reached by the author when he had completed his search of original records in the United States, Canada and England—the basic cause of the War of 1812 between the United States and Great Britain was control of Mackinac Island.

His interest in Mackinac Island, he said, was first aroused following his introduction to the captain of the Niagara, Perry's ship, which had been raised from the lake bottom and had stopped in Port Huron where his father was customs collector. The ship along with others had been sunk in 1819 in accordance with the Treaty of Ghent.

Schedule First Band Rehearsal

First rehearsal of the 1932-33 school year will be held by the Manistique high school band at 7 tomorrow night on the auditorium stage, it is announced by Joseph Giovannini, director.

All band members except those on the varsity football team are requested to be present.

Another rehearsing session is scheduled for the same time Thursday evening. Weather permitting, the band will also practice marching at that time.

The two rehearsals are being held in preparation for the Ishpeming-Manistique football game at the Hall stadium Friday night.

Band members are requested to use the north and south side auditorium doors, which are the only ones which will be open. Members also are requested to contact each other to help assure a good attendance.

Gun Club To Have Annual Outing On Sunday, August 31

Final arrangements for the annual picnic of the Manistique Rifle and Pistol club were made at a recent committee meeting, it is announced by Arthur Hough, club president.

The outing will be held Sunday, Aug. 31, at the Manistique Heights club building and grounds, with serving slated to start at 11 a. m. Baked ham, salad and all the trimmings are on the menu.

Members and their families and friends are invited to the event. Everything will be furnished at the grounds, and all necessary work in serving will be handled by club members, Hough reported. "This is one picnic where the women will not be called on to do a bit of work, either before or after," he said.

Also on the menu will be ice cream, pop, a wiener roast and a marshmallow roast primarily for youngsters. There will be games for children and a rifle shoot with prizes for women.

The committee in charge is composed of Arthur Hough, chairman; Ludwig Hough, Charles Bush, Milo Jones, and Oliver Johnson.

Membership of the club is approximately 50. The following five men were recently accepted as members: Roy Jones, Robert Shining, Ed Olson, Bill Hough and Arvid Stoor.

which officially ended the War of 1812.

The Niagara was one of several ships which had carried American marines to capture Mackinac Island, the speaker said. A far smaller force of British soldiers inflicted a disastrous defeat on the marines and drove the ships from the Mackinac area.

The fact that this defeat, suffered in a battle fought on Mackinac Island in August, 1814, had never been satisfactorily explained aroused Orr's curiosity as to what really happened, and he later went to Washington to search through the log of the Niagara, he said.

Searched Archives of Enemy
The speaker told of interminable delays encountered in cutting through Washington red tape, and said he failed to get any satisfaction until he presented the matter to Senator Arthur Vandenberg and Frank Knox.

Action was fast after that, he reported, but he wound up finally in being advised that the Niagara's log book was not to be found.

An English professor then suggested that he search the archives of the enemy, he said, and this he did, going to London where an investigation of national archives convinced him that control of Mackinac Island was the basic cause of the war.

An original letter addressed to Lord Castlereigh of England revealed the plot to close European ports to American shipping, in connivance with Napoleon, and the expectation of getting permanent control of Mackinac Island.

War Declared In June, 1812
Another letter from John Jacob Astor to Albert Gallatin revealed that Congress had declared war on England on June 18, 1812, not in July as history had inaccurately recorded.

The speaker devoted much of his talk to the activities of Astor and his efforts to "chisel in" on the fur trade of Montreal merchants, Astor's gift of a quarter million dollars to England in exchange for concessions, and Astor's importation of cut-throats who actually waged a forest conflict against the representatives of Montreal fur buyers.

Orr said that information taken from a Green Bay factor's report revealed that Astor had been responsible for three cold-blooded murders in his ruthless drive to gain a monopoly of the fur market of the upper Great Lakes.

Astor Makes Deal
After the declaration of war on June 18, 1812, the British made a deal with Astor whereby he was to ship 75 per cent of his furs to Montreal merchants and dispose of the rest as he saw fit, Orr continued.

Later through apparent bribery of customs agents Astor "lifted" all of the furs in Montreal warehouses and carted them off to New York, thereby effectively double-crossing the British.

When his several years of painstaking collection of historical evidence was complete, the author said, he was advised by Washington that the Niagara log book had been found and was available for his inspection.

A perusal of that log book, he said, showed that a colossal naval and military blunder had led to the defeat of the American marines at Mackinac Island. The story of that blunder was spirited away and hidden by individuals involved, much as the true story of our Pearl Harbor disaster has been concealed from the American public, he said.

HIGH POTENCY FORMULA KILLS 4 KINDS OF MASTITIS GERMS

Dr. Hess MASTITIS OINTMENT

Dr. Hess Mastitis Ointment contains 100 milligrams of streptomycin plus 150,000 units of penicillin in a special non-irritating base.

This combination gives you a high-potency formula that kills not just one, but four kinds of mastitis germs. Moreover, germs don't become penicillin resistant.

Can be kept for months without refrigeration. Better have a tube or two on hand all the time for use at the first sign of mastitis. One tube treats a quarter.

Escanaba And St. Joe Gridders Eye Opening Games On Sept. 6

Eskymos Seeking Reserve Linemen

With 52 varsity and junior varsity football candidates working out daily and an additional 35 expected by the opening of school next week, new coach Joe Milokna is pointing practices directly at the Escanaba Eskymo home opener against Soo Sept. 6.

Minor injuries last week kept three varsity candidates out of drills, but the trio is expected back in action this week. Missing most of last week's sessions were Dick Carlson and Con Michael, backs, and Dick Hanson, lineman.

Search Is On

"Right now we're searching for reserve linemen who can move up into front-line action," Coach Milokna revealed yesterday. Assisting the new mentor with daily afternoon drills—from 2:30 on—are Burt Gustafson and Steve Baltic.

"We've also got a quarterback problem to find a replacement for Paul Baldwin who graduated this spring. Three top candidates for the slot are Fred Boddy, George Bartley and Bill LeMire," Coach Milokna continued.

The Eskymo grid candidates have been running through their paces with a grim determination that indicates a well-conditioned and finely-trained crew by the opening date.

The new Eskymo coach, who piloted Kingsford on the gridiron last season, uses a T-formation offense. Leading the battle for starting berths to date are:

Top Candidates

Ends—Jim Finn, Bill Peltier, Tom Gregorie and Stack Smith. Tackles—George Peterson, John Peterson, Judd Yelland and John Price.

Guards—Lloyd Brazeau, John Jensen, Al Davidson, Dick Hanson, Gerald Nichol and Dave Sedelund.

Centers—Paul Davidson and John Trotter.

Quarterbacks—Fred Boddy, George Bartley and Bill LeMire.

Fullbacks—Dick Weycker and Marshall Judson.

Stonington And Trenary Win In S-Ball Tourney

GLADSTONE—Stonington and Trenary capped opening round games in the city softball tournament here last night.

Stonington measured Vener Mill 9-4 with Bert Sigfried on the winning mound and Leonard Cartwright the loser. Len Thorsen, Stonington catcher, belted a homer.

Trenary dumped Ensign 13-8 in a five-inning clash as Peterson and Osterick collected homers. H. Latvala tossed the win. R. Olson was the loser.

Tonight's schedule brings favored Kipling into action at 7 against the Lions. The windup will send the Merchants against Stonington at 8:30.

Play will continue Wednesday with Vener Mill facing Ensign and Trenary playing the Kipling-Lions winner.

Mitchell Climbs In Batting Race

NEW YORK (AP)—A late season hitting spree has enabled Dale Mitchell of the Cleveland Indians to climb within striking distance of Ferris Fain's American League batting crown.

Mitchell boosted his average seven points last week to .322 and trails Fain by five points. In advancing from third place to the runnerup slot, the Tribe outfielder collected 14 hits in 35 at bats for a .400 pace.

Fain, the Athletics' first baseman, won the batting title last season with a .344 average and currently is hitting .337. He went 11-for-28 to gain four points over the past week. Figures include Monday's games.

In the National League Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals retains his batting supremacy with a .325 average, and eight-point edge over Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski.

New York's Gene Woodling ranks as the third leading batter in the American League race with .320. The Yankee outfielder suffered a six-point decline as he skidded from second place.

Larry Doby of the Indians continues to top the American League in home runs with 27, while Philadelphia's Gus Zernial has taken over the runs batted in lead with 87.

William R. Engeln, new National League umpire, was born in St. Louis, Mo., but calls Palo Alto, Calif., his home now.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Guess we don't have to remind you fight fans that there's another big one coming up next month. Our friend Rocky Marciano gets his shot at the heavyweight crown which is currently perched on the aging brow of Jersey Joe Walcott. Philadelphia is the site.

Joe Louis, who should be a good judge of heavyweights, says Jersey Joe will clobber Rocky when they meet. He gives the ageless champion the nod because of his admittedly superior skill in the ring. Besides, he says, Jersey Joe has a punch that is capable of putting Marciano down for the count.

On the other hand, some writers are calling the Brockton, Mass., heavyweight the best to come along since Jack Dempsey. Harry Grayson, NEA sports editor, for instance, pointed out recently that a plodding Joe Louis finally caught up with Walcott, so why can't Marciano.

Our record of picking fights being what it is, maybe we should let it go at that, but one of these days we'll surprise everybody, ourselves included, by getting on the right bandwagon. So we'll string along with Louis and put our chips on Walcott. It puts us in a peculiar position. We picked Ezzard Charles to beat Walcott and missed. Then we picked Harry Matthews to murder Marciano and missed. Now we've got the sad choice of trying to pick the winner of a championship fight which we thought would never come.

We still think Matthews should have cut Marciano to ribbons. But he forgot to duck and kissed the canvas for keeps. Jersey Joe is a smart old geezer and we hardly think he'll make the same mistake. He'll hit and run, as he usually does, and we don't think Marciano ever will catch him in a spot where he can really lay on a haymaker. And we still think Marciano is a back-alley fighter who should be an easy target for a scrapper with ring know-how.

Dells Will Bid For First State S-Ball Crown Over Weekend

The Escanaba Dells, with three Peninsula softball crowns tucked away for 1952, will be seeking bigger game this weekend in the Michigan State Class A tournament at Ludington.

The Dells opened the long tournament trail early this month by copping the Escanaba Class A district crown. In Upper Peninsula tournament competition here the Dells added the Region five championship. And Sunday night Manager Cliff Beaudoin's club defeated Marquette Piffers, champs of Region six, for the U. P. title.

Marquette will also travel to Ludington in search of the state crown.

Raffensberger Is ERA Leader

NEW YORK (AP)—Lefty Ken Raffensberger of the Cincinnati Reds, who turned in a sixth shut-out against the New York Giants last night, has taken over as the National League's earned run leader.

Averages compiled by The Associated Press through yesterday's games disclose that the 35-year-old Raffensberger has allowed 58 earned runs in 208 innings for a 2.51 mark. The veteran Redleg hurler has a 14-11 record.

In the American League Philadelphia's Bobby Shantz, with 46 earned tallies in 229 frames, holds the top spot with a 1.81 average. The brilliant southpaw, seeking to capture pitching's triple crown, has won 22 and dropped only four for the fourth-place Athletics.

Karl Drews and Robin Roberts, a pair of Philadelphia righthanders, follow close behind Raffensberger in the National League. Drews, who boasts five shutouts, has permitted 48 earned runs in 171 innings, for a 2.53 slate while Roberts, the N. L.'s only 20-game winner, is third at 2.56. Robin's record shows 71 earned runs in 250 innings.

Alie Reynolds, the early season ERA leader in the American League, still has a chance to overtake Shantz. The 34-year-old New York Yankee righthander, with 47 earned runs in 193 frames, is runner-up with a 2.19 average.

Cleveland's Mike Garcia holds down third place at 2.36. The durable righty, who shows a 16-8 record, has given up 60 earned runs in 229 innings.

TODAY A YEAR AGO—The New York Giants defeated the Chicago Cubs, 5-4 and 5-1, to run their winning streak to 14 games and cut the Brooklyn Dodgers lead to six games.

FIVE YEARS AGO—Johnny Mize belted his 44th home run as the New York Giants edged the St. Louis Cardinals 6-5.

TEN YEARS AGO—Rookie Johnny Beazley won his 16th as the St. Louis Cardinals made it three straight over the Brooklyn Dodgers winning 2-1, in 10 innings.

Trojan Coaches Are Rebuilding

"The boys had a vacation over the weekend and now we're hitting two-a-day practice sessions hard and heavy to get ready for the opener Sept. 6 at Gladstone," Coach Tom St. Germain said yesterday as his St. Joe Trojans ran through practice drills at No. 3 diamond.

Two weeks of practice have resulted in a number of minor bruises and sore muscles, but no serious injuries as yet.

"We held an intrasquad game last Friday and the results were not too encouraging. The first group scored a three-touchdown victory over the second group with Tom Cass, left end, Gary Guertin and Jim Gravelle, both right halfbacks, scoring," Coach St. Germain said.

Rebuilding Job

With assistant coach Ira Hanson working on defense, the Trojans will be running through their paces from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. and 1:30 to 3 p. m. each day until school opens.

The Trojan coaches are faced with a big rebuilding job to replace regulars who graduated last spring, and several outstanding candidates are ineligible for competition.

There are currently 27 varsity candidates taking part in the drills. Coach St. Germain indicated that no berths have been nailed down yet, but he named the following leading candidates:

Seek Berths

Center—Tom Brien and Ray Roy Guards—Bob Bergeon, Jim Weber and Harlan Pepin

Tackles—Jim Cashion, Don LaChapelle, Dick Moreau and Bob Rademacher

Ends—Dick Cass, Bob Sendenbergh, John Berrigan, Isadore Derkos and Ron Boisenau

Quarterbacks—Bill Lancour and Jerry McDonough

Left halfbacks—Bill Maycunich and Stan Venne

Right halfbacks—Gary Guertin and Jim Gravelle

Fullbacks—Dan Marsicek and Dave Hirn.

Former Eskymos Get Grid Call

HOUGHTON (Special)—Jim Nyquist, letterman lineman, and freshmen Warren Johnston and Dick Johnson, all former Escanaba High School athletes, are three of 50 Michigan Tech students who have been invited to early football practice, according to Al Bovard, head coach.

Early practice will begin Sept. 1 and the Huskies will play their first game with Wisconsin State of Stevens Point, Wis., at Houghton on Sept. 20.

Of the 50 men invited out for early practice, 20 are returning lettermen. A dozen are promising freshmen prospects.

Complete Michigan Tech football schedule follows: Sept. 20—Stevens Point at Houghton. Oct. 4—Albion College at Houghton. Oct. 11—U. of Minnesota (Duluth Branch) at Houghton.

Oct. 18—Northern Michigan College at Houghton. Oct. 31—Superior State at Superior, Wis. Nov. 8—Ferris at Big Rapids.

Urzetta Rates Favorite Tag

By JACK HEWINS

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—Defending Champion Walt McElroy of Vancouver and some other late starters got into the act today, realizing the man to beat in the 1952 edition of the Canadian Amateur Golf Tournament is the slugger from East Rochester, N. Y., Sammy Urzetta.

McElroy drew a bye in yesterday's opening round. So did Billy Campbell, the tall politician from Huntington, W. Va., and Bill Mahinney of Vancouver, the 1950 champ.

Doubts increased that Mahinney would be able to drag himself to the first tee for his scheduled match with George Andrews of Victoria. He has been in the hospital with a back ailment.

The Capilano Golf Course was sodden with rain — and so were the 110 golfers — in the opening 18 holes of play yesterday and the weather man could promise only "variable cloudiness" for today's second 18.

To Urzetta, 1950 U. S. Amateur champ, the weather seemed to make not a bit of difference. He hammered around the first nine in 33 — 4 under par — and needed just four more holes to close out Bill MacPherson of Seattle. He finished 3 under par.

Manistique To Open Football Season Friday

MANISTIQUE—After two weeks of fundamentals and conditioning, Emerald varsity football candidates are going through rugged paces this week to polish up offensive and defensive plays against Ishpeming here Friday night.

No starting lineup for the opening clash has been named yet, Coach Richard Bonifas reported yesterday, but he said a selection will be made later after candidates have had more chance to show what they can do in simulated football action.

The number of candidates reporting for daily workouts has been disappointing to Coach Bonifas who said that out of around 45 who enrolled for the team only about 17 to 21 have shown up for practice regularly.

Although this condition has made it impossible to put two full eleven together for scrimmage purposes, the boys are showing a willingness to play good, tough football, the coach said.

With summer vacation jobs ending the player situation is expected to improve this week. Coach Bonifas has issued instructions that all candidates must report for practice twice daily this week or turn in their uniforms.

Coupled with returning lettermen the following underclassmen are showing gridiron promise: Backs, Darryl Bertrand, Don Tiglas, Bob Smits and Don Anderson; linemen, Gerald Walstrom, Jim Swartstrom, Warren LaBar, Orville Erickson, Francis Laurion, Skip Corson and Ed Busch.

Manistique will probably be the smallest team in the Great Lakes Conference this season, Coach Bonifas said, and it will have to depend on its ability to hit hard and quick.

Championship Flight Under Way In Highland Golf Club Women's Title Tournament

The Highland Club women's golf championship tournament swung into first round action this afternoon with eight championship flight candidates headlining the program.

The tournament got under way over the weekend with 18-hole play and a nine-hole tournament. Results of the weekend matches determined the placing of golfers in the championship and first flights in the 18-hole tourney, and in the nine-hole affair winners went into the second flight and losers into the third.

Tournament play will continue at Highland tomorrow and the championship match will be staged Thursday.

A mother and daughter pair survived weekend matches and are among the eight survivors in the championship flight. Mrs. Helen Johnson defeated Helen Martin while her daughter, Miss Carolyn Johnson, beat Caroline Olson.

BRISTOL, Va. (AP)—Two young pitchers who first achieved fame on a team in the Class D Appalachian League may be reunited soon—as members of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The pair are Ron Necciai, fabulous 19-year-old strikeout artist who recently joined the Pirates, and Bill Bell, strapping young righthander from Goldsboro, N. C.

It was just three months ago that the two were teammates on the local Bristol, Twins club. Then Necciai set the diamond world on its ears with an amazing no-hit performance in which he struck out 27 men.

The feat earned Ron a promotion to Burlington of the Class B Carolina League, where he was impressive enough to receive a recent call-up to Pittsburgh.

The night after Necciai left Bristol Bell turned in a no-hitter himself, fanning 17 in checking Kingsport, Tenn., 1-0. Four days later, the 18-year-old fastballer stopped Bluefield without a hit, 4-0, and whiffed 20.

Last night against Bluefield Bell pitched his third no-hitter of the year, a seven-inning 4-0 triumph. Manager George Detore, who just raves about the chunky 205-pounder, said he'd "never seen Bill's fast ball hopping so much."

Detore didn't care to talk about Bell's chances of moving up, but said he "understood" the Pirates are considering calling up Bell.

Baseball Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Strickland, who replaced the jittery Ray Boone as the regular Cleveland shortstop, last night handled 10 chances perfectly and participated in three double plays.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Monte Irvin, since returning to action last month, has rapped out eight hits in 24 times at bat for a .333 average. The husky outfielder, who suffered an ankle fracture in spring training, had a couple of safeties off the Reds' Ken Raffensberger last night.

Marion LaBranche vs. Marie Brunelle

ISHPEMING (Special)—Maurice (The Angel) Tillet, grotesque French wrestler, will headline a grunt and groan show to be staged here Wednesday, Aug. 27.

Tillet, who weighs in at 288 pounds, will face Bob Massey, 11-year veteran in the pro ranks, in the program's opener at 8:30 at the Ishpeming Speedway.

In other matches on the card, Howard Blazer of Green Bay will take on John Cobb, colored champion from Dallas, Texas; and Mike Blazer, Howard's son, meets Chief Geronimo, Sioux Falls, Ia., Indian.

The Blazers make up one of the few father and son teams in the wrestling business. The senior Blazer has been Green Bay's leading wrestler for the past three decades.

Carol Pilon Voted Most Valuable On Tim & Sally's Team

The Tim & Sally's girls softball team banquet was held last night at the Dells with 11 players guests of the sponsor.

Carol Pilon, pitcher, was awarded a trophy as the most valuable player and Ruby Stoykovich, catcher, was honored as the all-around most popular. Betty Cox won the batting trophy with a .335 average.

Absence of several players made it necessary to close the season early. Speeches were made by Mrs. Tim Curran and Cliff Frasher, team manager.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Peewee Reese, Dodgers—Singled in the ninth inning to drive in tying and winning runs as the Dodgers went on to defeat the Cardinals, 9-5, in the evening portion of the night doubleheader after winning the afternoon game, 3-1.

Pitching—Virgil Trucks, Tigers—pitched his second no-hitter of the season, holding the Yankees hitless as the Tigers eked out a 1-0 triumph.

In Britain the corresponding automotive term for defroster is "demister."

Dorothy Kirby Opens Defense Of Women's Amateur Golf Crown

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Straight-shooting Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, having mastered 146 rivals to capture medal honors, launches the formal defense of her Women's National Amateur Golf championship today.

The tall girl from Georgia scored a three-over par 76 to lead the 64 qualifiers yesterday.

Par was an elusive target for the girls yesterday, and only six managed to break 80.

Second Of Season For Fireballer

Trucks Gets No-Hitter

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Virgil Trucks was riding on the clouds today but if the double no-hit pitcher of the Detroit Tigers was going around in circles, who could blame him?

The 33-year-old righthander, suffering his poorest season in the majors, suddenly finds himself in the pitchers' mythical Hall of Fame, joining Johnny Vander Meer and Allie Reynolds on a special pedestal reserved for those who achieve two no-hitters in the same season.

Shantz Shoots For Win No. 23 Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Shibe Park isn't the house that Bobby Shantz built—but he's the little guy who keeps it in repair.

And the pint-sized southpaw is set for more maintenance work tonight when he shoots for mound win No. 23. The maintenance work Shantz performs—while pitching from what looks like a deep knee bend—is oiling the turnstiles.

So well has the 5-foot-5 dandy of the curve ball oiled them this year that the park management pleasantly anticipates they'll make more than a half-million revolutions in 1952. The turnstiles revolved only 456,469 times last season.

Averages 15,000
Shantz so far has pitched before an average of 15,246 home fans in 13 appearances for a total of 198,202. Shantz-less home dates of the Athletics have only attracted an average of 6,382 paying customers, or a total of 229,748 for 96 games.

On the road Bobby has pitched as many ball games and his attendance average is even better—same season. Trucks held the New York Yankees hitless yesterday at the Yankee Stadium and won, 1-0, in a sensational, thrill-packed performance that cut the world champions' American League lead to one game over the Cleveland Indians, who defeated Washington, 7-2. The classic came just three months and 10 days after he hand-cuffed the Washington Senators without a hit or a run on May 15.

Has One-Hitter

The Birmingham fireballer also has pitched a one-hitter, a two-hitter, a four-hitter, a five-hitter and two six-hitters. Yet he has only five victories to show for his efforts as against 15 defeats. Only Art Houtteman, a teammate, has lost more.

Scorer Changes Decision To Give Trucks No-Hitter As Tigers Beat Yanks 1-0

BOSTON (AP)—They'll be talking about the reversed decision that helped Virgil Trucks gain his second no-hitter of the season for a long time but like almost everything else in baseball, it has happened before.

In yesterday's game, in which Trucks held the New York Yankees hitless as Detroit nipped the world champions, 1-0, the official scorer first called a third inning grounder by Phil Rizzuto to shortstop Johnny Pesky an error. He immediately reversed himself and called it a hit. Four innings later, after a telephone conversation with Pesky, the scorer reversed himself again and ruled it an error.

Tesreau Too

Now turn the pages back to Sept. 6, 1912. The Giants were playing the Phillies in Philadelphia and big Jeff Tesreau had retired the first three batters. In the second inning George Paskert raised a pop between the plate and first baseman Fred Merkle both went after the ball but became confused and let it drop to allow the runner to reach base safely.

Stoney McLinn, the official scorer, ruled it a hit. Tesreau, later baseball coach at Dartmouth, did not allow another safety as the Giants won, 3-0. At the conclusion of the game, McLinn conferred with the Giant players and was advised by Merkle that he had touched the ball before it fell to the ground. McLinn returned to the press box and announced that he had reversed his call, charging Merkle with an error. That gave Tesreau a no-hitter.

So it went into the record books despite the fact that Philadelphia newspapers the next day carried the box score showing one hit for the Phillies.

Checked In 7th

In Trucks' case, the official scorer, John Drebing of the New York Times, did not wait until the end of the game. He got in touch with Pesky in the seventh inning. The shortstop readily took the blame.

"It was my fault. I booted the ball," he explained. "I had it in my glove but it squirted loose just as I reached to take it out."

Later Pesky said: "I played the ball too nonchalantly, and it had a backspin on it and twisted out of my glove. I recovered it and threw late. I saw the scoreboard chalk up an error, but when Rizzuto got down to second base later in the inning he said, 'look, John, they gave me a hit.' I looked up and they had changed it, and I said to Phil, 'well, I'm glad for your sake but it sure wasn't any hit.'"

Trucks expressed happy surprise over the scoring change but refused to second guess the scorer. "I hadn't given it any thought up until the public address system announced in the seventh inning that it was an error," he said. "I saw the hit up on the scoreboard although I thought it was an error. But who am I to criticize? I never bother the official scorer."

Better Than First

Just to make certain there be no further confusion, Trucks went to work and did not allow another runner to reach base. In all, three Yankees reached base, one on a walk, two on errors as only seven balls were hit out of the infield.

"This was a much better job than the first one," he said, referring to his hitless game against Drebing then reversed himself again, ruled it an error and had the public address system announce it to the customers. The crowd greeted the announcement with a roar of approval and Trucks, visibly affected, worked all the harder in the three remaining innings.

Only two other Yankees besides Rizzuto reached base, one on a walk and another on an error.

Lemon Gets 16th

The Indians clubbed Connie Marrero for 12 hits, erupting for three runs in the second and four in the ninth as Bob Lemon registered his 16th victory with an eight-hitter.

The Brooklyn Dodgers just about killed the Cardinals' slim pennant chances, sweeping both ends of a day-night St. Louis doubleheader, 3-1 and 9-5, to boost their National League lead to 10½ games. The New York Giants slipped past the Cardinals into second place despite a 3-0 loss to Cincinnati.

A five-run ninth inning, climaxed by Roy Campanella's home run with two on after Pee Wee Reese had singled in the tying and winning runs, finished off the Cards in the nightcap. The Dodgers snapped a 1-1 first-game tie in the seventh, scoring twice on singles by George Shuba, Gil Hodges and Andy Pafko and a long foul fly by Campanella. Rookie John Rutherford limited the Redbirds to two hits.

Ken Raffensberger blanked the Giants with six hits to register his fifth shutout and his 14th victory for the Reds. Granny Hamner's homer with two on in the 10th gave the Philadelphia Phils a 6-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs in the majors' only other activity. All other teams were not scheduled.

Patricia Cole August Bride Of John Soderman

Miss Patricia Anne Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cole, 509 Dakota avenue, became the bride of John Alvin Soderman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Soderman, 123 Fourth avenue at a double ring ceremony on Saturday at the First Lutheran Church. Rev. Gustav Lund performed the service at 3.

Bridal music was furnished by Mrs. Howard Sunblad, church organist.

Miss Jeanne Cole, the bride's sister and James Carlson were the attendants.

A navy blue suit with red accessories and a corsage of red roses was worn by the bride for her wedding. Her attendant chose a gray suit with green accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride's mother was attired in a rust colored silk dress with black accessories. Orange and yellow gladioli formed her corsage. The groom's mother wore a black chiffon dress with black accessories. Pink and white gladioli comprised her corsage.

A reception with over one hundred and twenty-five persons attending, was held from 6 until 9 at the Legion hall.

Following a wedding trip to Ypsilanti, Wyandotte and Detroit, the newlyweds will live at Seney until the fall. The groom is employed in Conservation work at Seney. The bride was employed at Harnischfeger. They will return to Gladstone in the fall to live.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Gladstone High School, class of 1952.
